Covering The Cardinals

Game Day

Credential Requests

Members of the news media who have not been issued season press credentials should request single-game credentials in writing on appropriate letterhead at least seven days in advance of the desired game. Mail or FAX requests to Paul Jensen, Director of Public Relations, P.O. Box 888, Phoenix, AZ 85001–0888. All credentials are issued to individuals. They are not transferable!

(Public Relations FAX: 602/379–1821)

Credential Delivery

All credentials will be mailed if time allows. Otherwise, they may be claimed at the Cardinals' public relations office at the team's training facility in south Tempe, Arizona during normal working hours or with proper identification at the "will call" window located in the south end of Sun Devil Stadium (Fifth Street) on game days. "Will call" opens three hours prior to kickoff.

Media Stadium Entrance

The media entrance to Sun Devil Stadium is located on the southwest corner above the television pad parking for press already holding their credentials.

Photographers

Sideline photography in the National Football League is limited to working media on specific assignment for a recognized sports publication or news service. No free-lance photographers will be accommodated. No one except network television and authorized game personnel will be admitted to the field without a camera. All field photographers must remain outside the bench areas and behind the broken lines that surround the entire perimeter of the playing field. All credentialed grips and messengers must remain on the perimeter of the playing field.

Telephones

The Cardinals provide numerous telephone extensions from the Arizona State University telephone system throughout the press box at Sun Devil Stadium. Media outlets desiring dedicated lines should place orders by contacting U.S. West Communications, 602/640–8781, for lines, and AT&T, 1–800/555–8111, for instruments.

Locker Room Access/Post-Game Interviews

Members of the media wishing to conduct post-game interviews in the home and visiting locker rooms will be given access to players and coaches after the suggested "cooling-off" period following the conclusion of the game. Access is available only to individuals holding working credentials as well as a locker room pass which is distributed in the press box in the fourth quarter.

Locker Room Locations

Both locker rooms are located in a separate building outside the north end of Sun Devil Stadium. The Arizona dressing room is the first room on the right; the visitors' dressing room is at the end of the hallway. Arizona Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan conducts his post-game interview in a separate interview room directly across the hall from the Cardinals' locker room. The visiting head coach is available in proximity to his locker room.

Press Box/Locker Room Routing

To reach the locker rooms from the press box, media must take the elevator to the main concourse level. There is no way to walk to ground level from the press box. Emerging from the elevator at ground level, proceed north (left) along the stadium concourse. Walk to field level through the stands. Members of the media will be permitted to view the conclusion of the game from inside the field fence at the northwest corner of the field. They will be allowed to proceed to the dressing rooms after the game participants have exited the playing field.

Parking

There are 183 parking spaces in the Cardinals' press parking lot located just southwest of Sun Devil Stadium along the railroad tracks.

FAX Service

Media needing FAX service should contact a member of the Cardinal public relations staff prior to the game to fill out a simple form outlining their needs. A $10 fee is charged for long-distance FAXing.

During The Week

General Protocol

For the Cardinals' public relations office to better serve the media's needs, all members of the print and electronic press are asked to stop in the public relations office upon arrival at the training facility. All photographers must notify the public relations office of their presence prior to gaining access to the practice field.

Player Interviews

During the regular-season work week, Cardinal players typically are available to the media in the locker room during their lunch period. There is no media access to players on Tuesdays, their off day. Additional interview access also is available outside the locker room after the daily workouts and during pre-arranged appointments made through the public relations department.

Buddy Ryan Interviews

Cardinal Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan is available to the media as he leaves the practice field following each day's workout. On Tuesdays, the players' off day, Ryan conducts his interview session at approximately noon.

Assistant Coaches/Staff Interviews

Interviews with Cardinal assistant coaches and other members of the organization should be arranged through the public relations office.

Opponent Coach/Player Interviews

The head coach and a player from the Cardinals' upcoming opponent are interviewed via conference call midweek, usually Wednesday. Contact the Cardinals' public relations office each week to verify times.

Remembering ...

Steve Pascente, 40, a respected sports reporter for KPNX-TV (NBC) in Phoenix, tragically was killed in an automobile accident in Washington, D.C. on Saturday, October 15, 1994. He had accompanied the Cardinals to the nation's capital to cover their game against the Redskins the next day. The Chicago-area native, who had been employed by KPNX for 17 years, was en route to the team's Saturday morning practice when the accident occurred just blocks from R.F.K. Stadium.

Pascente is survived by his wife, Julie, and three children—son Nicholas and daughters Alyssa and Danielle.

Every reporter's duty is to find the story, get it right, and tell it. Steve Pascente found it, got it right, and told it. He was a true professional.

Bill Bidwill

President

William V. Bidwill's association with the Cardinals, a relationship that began as a child ball boy on Chicago's south side and continues today as owner and president, is now in its fifth decade.

The 64-year-old Chicago native presides over the oldest continuously-operated professional football franchise that dates to 1898. The Cardinals and the Chicago Bears are the two charter members of the National Football League (1920).

The Cardinals have remained in the Bidwill family since William's father, Charles, a prominent Chicago sports figure and member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, purchased the team in 1932. Charles ran the club until his death in the Cardinals' NFL championship year of 1947. His wife, Violet, guided the franchise's fortunes for the next 15 years, followed jointly by sons William and Charles, Jr. (Stormy). William became sole owner in 1972.

Named a Cardinal vice president during his undergraduate days at Georgetown University, William Bidwill returned to Chicago from the Navy in 1956 to begin assisting family interests that included football. When the Cardinals moved to St. Louis in 1960, Bidwill returned to the organization on a full-time basis.

Bidwill remains involved in all areas of the Cardinals' day-to-day operation. He operates the organization in south Tempe, Arizona from its award-winning training facility that the team has called home since construction was completed in September, 1990.

He also has been credited with his leading role in bringing Super Bowl XXX to Arizona on January 28, 1996. He also was a pivotal voice in Arizona's original award of Super Bowl XXVII.

An active supporter of various civic and charitable organizations and endeavors, Bidwill directed the formation of Cardinal Charities, the team's organization dedicated to supporting worthy Arizona causes, shortly after the Cardinals arrived in the state.

He also has served on many league committees in the past.

Bidwill and his wife, Nancy, are the parents of five children.

Larry Wilson

Vice President

Larry Wilson, one of the greatest defensive backs in NFL history, has enjoyed a career that spans 36 years as a player and front-office executive.

A 1978 inductee into the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Wilson received another milestone honor in 1994 when he was named to the NFL's all-time team announced to commemorate the league's 75th anniversary.

A legendary defensive back for the Cardinals during their first 13 seasons in St. Louis and one of only four players in franchise history to have his jersey retired, the 57-year-old Wilson's NFL career began with 13 seasons (1960–72) as a player and has continued with a variety of administrative posts.

Wilson started his climb up the team's organizational ladder as director of professional scouting (1973–76) and director of professional personnel (1977–88). He also guided the team as interim head coach for the final three games of the 1979 season, earning credit for victories over the San Francisco 49ers and New York Giants.

During the Cardinals' inaugural season in Phoenix in 1988, Wilson was appointed vice president and general manager to guide the franchise's football fortunes as it entered a new era in Arizona, a position he held through the 1993 season. During that span,

Wilson hired a new head coach (Joe Bugel) and director of college scouting (Bob Ackles), played an active role in planning the Cardinals' state-of-the-art training facility, took a prominent role in the team's draft decision making, and implemented an aggressive approach to free agency.

As a player, Wilson reached legendary status as a hard-hitting six-time all-pro and eight-time Pro Bowl free safety, appearing in 169 NFL games—all as a Cardinal—from 1960–72. His name is referenced throughout the Cardinal record book. He still owns club records for career interceptions (52), career interception yardage (800), career interception returns for touchdowns (5), and single-game interception return yardage (115). His 96-yard interception return for a touchdown against Cleveland on Dec. 19, 1965 remains the longest in Cardinal history and his 91-yard interception for a touchdown the following year against Philadelphia remains third on the same list. He led the Cardinals in interceptions six times and intercepted three passes in a single game twice.

In 1966, he enjoyed one of his finest seasons with an NFL-leading 10 interceptions, including three in one game against the Chicago Bears on Oct. 31, while tying a league record by intercepting a pass in seven consecutive games.

Wilson also holds the Cardinal record for longest fumble return, an 88-yard jaunt for a touchdown at Green Bay on Dec. 21, 1969. It was one of two career fumbles he returned for touchdowns and one of 12 career fumbles he recovered, the latter ranking fifth in Card annals.

Born in Rigby, Idaho, Wilson was drafted as a running back out of the University of Utah in the seventh round in 1960. After converting to the defensive backfield due to injuries, Wilson and coach Chuck Drulis innovated one of today's most potent and exciting aspects of defensive football—the safety blitz.

Wilson and his wife, Nancy, reside in Scottsdale, Arizona.

The name Larry Wilson, the Hall of Fame player (below following his final game in 1972) and long-time administrator, is synonymous with Cardinal football.

Buddy Ryan

Head Coach and General Manager

James David "Buddy" Ryan has been called many things during his always colorful, sometimes controversial coaching career. But when Cardinal President William V. Bidwill called him "head coach and general manager" at an introductory press conference on February 3, 1994, a new era in Cardinal football began.

It didn't take long for Ryan to assure his new owner he made the right decision.

"You've got a winner in town," said Ryan, the team's 32nd head coach. "I'm looking forward to winning the Super Bowl, and I hope it doesn't take the length of the contract to do that."

Known as one of football's most innovative and effective defensive coaches, Ryan has enjoyed successes at all his NFL coaching stops. He served on the staffs of three Super Bowl teams—1968 Jets, 1976 Vikings, and 1985 Bears.

Renown for his defensive coaching philosophies, he is perhaps best known as the mastermind of the "46" defense, a scheme that involves multiple variations of alignments and coverages.

Pedigree

Ryan was born February 17, 1934 in Frederick, Oklahoma, located about 20 miles from the Texas border.

Raised during the Great Depression, Ryan, his father, mother, three brothers and two sisters managed without electricity until after the conclusion of World War II, and did without indoor plumbing until Ryan graduated from high school. It was those hardships Ryan endured as a youngster that made him tough like his father, D.A. "Red" Ryan, a house painter and bull rider on a small rodeo circuit.

"He was a no-nonsense guy," Ryan says. "There was no question he was the boss. You didn't debate anything with my dad. It was 'yes sir, no sir.'"

While a two-sport star in football and baseball in high school, Ryan worked in grain elevators, oil fields, dug ditches, and paved roads to make ends meet. No job was too big for Ryan, and no job was too small. Whenever people were laid off, it never was Ryan. He had a job and he took care of it.

Ryan misled the military about his age at 17 to join the National Guard. When his unit was activated, his football scholarship to the University of Arkansas never was realized.

He later served in the U.S. Army in Korea. Ryan was a leader of Company F of the 179th Infantry, 45th Division in Korea. Shortly after enlisting, Ryan became a squad leader, a platoon sergeant, a sergeant first class, and a master sergeant by age 18. His military roots remain evident today, demanding his players stand at attention, in a straight line, with their helmets under their left arms during the playing of the national anthem.

But football couldn't escape Ryan while serving his country. He played fullback and linebacker on the 45th Infantry Division championship team in Japan. Unscored upon, the team was sent to Korea before it could play in the Rice Bowl against the U.S. Air Force champs. After returning home, Ryan opted to play his college football at

Oklahoma State University. He would become a four-year letterman for the Cowboys from 1952–55 as a guard and linebacker. Ryan earned a bachelor's degree in education in 1957 and a master's degree in education administration from Middle Tennessee State in 1966.

A Coach Is Born

Ryan began his coaching career at Gainesville (Texas) High as athletic director and head coach from 1957–59 and as an assistant at Marshall (Texas) High School in 1960.

He joined the college coaching ranks as defensive coordinator at the University of Buffalo from 1961–65. He served in a similar role the next two years at Vanderbilt (1966) and the University of Pacific (1967).

Ryan moved into the professional coaching ranks in 1968, joining the defensive staff of the New York Jets under Pro Football Hall of Fame Head Coach Weeb Ewbank, whom Ryan credits with influencing his defensive philosophies. Ryan spent eight seasons with New York, including 1968 when the Jets upset the heavily favored Baltimore Colts in Super Bowl III.

He later served from 1976–77 as the defensive line coach for Bud Grant's Minnesota Vikings as the "Purple People Eaters" of Carl Eller, Alan Page, and Jim Marshall led the Vikings to Super Bowl XI.

Ryan spent eight seasons as the Chicago Bears' defensive coordinator (1978–85). During that span, his unit ranked among the NFL's top 10 on six occasions. He helped mold such greats as Mike Singletary, Wilber Marshall, Dan Hampton, Steve McMichael and Gary Fencik into one of the great defenses in NFL history. In 1984, the Bears set an NFL record with 72 quarterback sacks while also leading the league in fewest yards allowed (241.3 per game) and fewest rushing yards permitted (86.1). In Chicago's Super Bowl season of 1985, Ryan's unit led the league in nine defensive categories—fewest points allowed (12.4 per game), fewest total yards (258.4), fewest rushing yards allowed (82.4), fewest rushing touchdowns permitted (6), most interceptions (34), most turnovers (54), fewest first downs allowed (14.8), lowest opponents passing percentage (47.7) and lowest opponent time of possession (25:27).

In Chicago's Super Bowl XX victory over New England, Ryan's charges held the Patriots to Super Bowl records of fewest first downs (7) and fewest rushing first downs (1) while allowing just 123 total yards. En route to the Super Bowl title, Chicago posted playoff shutouts of the L.A. Rams and N.Y. Giants, an unprecedented accomplishment in NFL post-season annals.

Ryan posted a 43–35–1 composite record as head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles from 1986–90. As head coach at Philadelphia, he led the Eagles to the playoffs in each of his last three years with the club, ending a streak of seven seasons without a playoff berth. From 1988–90, Philadelphia posted records of 10–6, 11–5, and 10–6, highlighted by the NFC East title in 1988, the Eagles' first division crown since 1980.

After a two-year absence from coaching, Ryan returned to the NFL in 1993 as defensive coordinator for the Houston Oilers, which set a club record with 52 quarterback sacks and ranked first in the league in both rushing defense (79.6 yards per game) and interceptions (26).

Ryan's return to head coaching in Arizona in 1994 brought typical defensive results. His first Cardinal defense fueled season-long playoff hopes and finished third in the league (275.5 yards per game) and led the NFL by yielding just 45 points in the fourth quarter. The unit was the league's stingiest scoring defense over the second half of the season (95 points or 11.9 points per game). Twelve of Arizona's 16 opponents—including the final nine—scored less than 20 points, the team's best scoring defense since 1935. Additionally, the Cards led the league in fewest first downs allowed (245) and opponent third-down conversion efficiency (27.8 percent). It shared the league lead with Miami and San Francisco by intercepting 23 passes. Combined with 13 fumble recoveries, Arizona's 36 takeaways led the NFC and ranked fourth in the NFL. Also, no enemy running back gained 100 yards on the ground; only six teams turned the trick.

Remarkably, no opponent runner has cracked a Ryan-coached defense for 100 yards rushing in a span of 62 consecutive regular-season games entering the 1995 season.

The "46"

Since Ryan developed the innovative "46" defense, football minds have duplicated it. NFL defenses, college programs, and high schools have copied it.

Ryan first developed the concept as an assistant coach with the New York Jets, where Ewbank was obsessed with keeping gimpy-kneed quarterback Joe Namath protected at all times.

It wasn't until Ryan became the Bears' defensive coordinator in 1978 that the "46" became noticed. Under his innovations, the Bears' dominant defense became the "Monsters of the Midway" again and won a Super Bowl in 1985.

"The whole thing was born out of necessity, really," Ryan says. "We didn't have anybody who could rush the quarterback in Chicago. We didn't have anybody who could even get close to him. We were playing Detroit, and I said, 'Well, we've gotta do something. "We went with five down linemen ... put a defensive end outside, and then we got linebackers who were good enough to stay in there and do certain things. "We just kind of added to it."

Ryan's defenses at Philadelphia and Houston were just as dangerous and highly ranked, leading the league in everything from turnovers to fewest yards allowed.

Just what is the "46" defense?

The principle behind it is to create turnovers and chaos with a seven-man front constantly applying pressure on the quarterback, which also stuffs the running game because of the congestion on the line of scrimmage. Quite simply, the "46" is controlled violence directed at the quarterback and anyone in his path.

Personal

An avid horse enthusiast, Ryan's horse farm in Lawrenceburg, Kentucky, just west of Lexington, is his base to raise, train, and race over 20 thoroughbred horses. He also has 100 head of cattle. Ryan hopes to one day win a Super Bowl and a Kentucky Derby.

Ryan and his wife, Joan, live in Phoenix. He has three sons—twins Rex and Rob, who currently are assistants on their father's Cardinal coaching staff, and Jim.

Dave Atkins

Offensive Coordinator

Dave Atkins embarks upon his second season as Arizona's offensive coordinator and his 10th season in the National Football League.

Atkins, 46, a former seven-year assistant with the Philadelphia Eagles, including the first five under Head Coach Buddy Ryan, reunited with Ryan last season in Arizona following one season on the New England Patriots' staff.

Atkins will oversee the reconstruction of the Cardinal offense that will feature new starters at most skill positions—quarterback, running back, and both wide receivers—and one or two offensive line slots.

In 1994, his first season with the Cardinals, Atkins also coached the running backs in addition to serving as offensive coordinator for a unit that led the NFL in time of possession (32:37 per game).

In 1993 in his only campaign with New England, Atkins tutored the Patriots' offensive backs, honing the skills of former Arizona State standout Leonard Russell, who finished second in the AFC in rushing (1,088 yards) and third in the conference in total yards from scrimmage (1,333).

During his tenure in Philadelphia, Atkins handled three areas of coaching—running backs, special teams, and tight ends. Prior to his arrival, the Eagles' rushing attack ranked 23rd in the league. In his first season (1986), he helped resurrect the ground attack to an eighth-place ranking with 2,002 yards, the club's highest total since 1981. By 1990, the Eagles were averaging 159.8 yards rushing per game, best in the NFL.

Atkins entered coaching as an assistant at Burges High School in El Paso, Texas (1977–78), then joined the collegiate ranks in 1979 at his alma mater, Texas-El Paso, where he coached the running backs and handled the kicking game for two years. In 1981, he began a five-year stint as an assistant at San Diego State prior to joining the Eagles.

Born in Victoria, Texas, Atkins attended Victoria High School and played collegiately (running back and kick returner) at Texas-El Paso. Selected in the eighth round of the 1973 NFL Draft by San Francisco, Atkins played one season for the 49ers, signed with the Honolulu Hawaiians of the World Football League, then finished his playing career with the San Diego Chargers in 1975.

Born May 18, 1949, Atkins and his wife, Cynthia, have two children—Dave, Jr. (18) and Jasmine (4).

Ronnie Jones

Defensive Coordinator

Former Arizona State assistant Ronnie Jones, the Sun Devils' strength and conditioning coach from 1985–86, returned to the Valley of the Sun with Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan in 1994 as defensive coordinator after seven years in the professional arena.

Jones looks to fine tune a Cardinal defense that fueled season-long playoff hopes a year ago in his first season with Arizona. It became the highest-rated Card defense in 25 years and achieved its loftiest modern-day ranking by finishing in the NFL's top five in all three primary team categories—overall (third, 275.5 yards per game), against the rush (fourth, 85.6), and versus the pass (fourth, 189.9).

Jones' first Cardinal defense led the NFL in four categories—fewest fourth-quarter points allowed (45 points), points yielded over the second half of the season (95), fewest first downs allowed (245), and lowest opponent third-down conversion efficiency (27.8 percent).

It also shared the league lead with Miami and San Francisco by intercepting 23 passes. Combined with 13 fumble recoveries, Arizona's 36 takeaways led the NFC and ranked fourth in the league.

Twelve of Arizona's 16 opponents, including the final nine, scored less than 20 points, the team's best scoring defense since 1935. No running back gained 100 yards on the ground; only six teams turned the trick.

Following one-year stints as linebackers coach with both Los Angeles teams, the Rams (1991) and Raiders (1992), Jones was named to a similar position with Houston in 1993 after Ryan was tabbed the Oilers' defensive coordinator. Houston's defense set a club record with 52 quarterback sacks and ranked first in the league in rushing defense (79.6 yards per game) and interceptions (26), propelling the Oilers into the playoffs with an 11-game winning streak to end the regular season and the AFC Central title.

Jones was Ryan's strength and conditioning coach for the Eagles in 1987 before switching to linebackers coach in 1988.

An assistant on Head Coach John Cooper's Arizona State staff for two seasons, including the second which produced a Rose Bowl victory over Michigan, Jones previously served as offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at Tulsa in 1984 after five seasons (1979–83) at Northeastern (Okla.) State, where he worked with the defensive line and linebackers in addition to handling duties as the school's head track coach and strength and conditioning coach for all sports.

Born October 17, 1955 in Dumas, Texas, Jones attended Sunray (Tex.) High School and was a small college all-America running back at Northwestern (Okla.) State. He had tryouts with the Denver Broncos and Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Canadian Football League.

He owns a bachelor's degree from Northeastern State and a master's degree in health and physical education from Northwestern State.

Jones and his wife, Karla, live in Phoenix.

Matt Cavanaugh

Quarterbacks

An NFL quarterback for 14 seasons that included two Super Bowl teams, Matt Cavanaugh enters his second campaign as quarterbacks coach for the Cardinals.

Cavanaugh, who played for Head Coach Buddy Ryan from 1986–89 as a Philadelphia Eagle, reunited with Ryan in Arizona last season after beginning his coaching career at his alma mater, the University of Pittsburgh, as tight ends coach in 1993.

In a pro playing career that spanned three decades (1970s, '80s, '90s), Cavanaugh originally was selected by the New England Patriots in the second round of the 1978 NFL Draft and spent five seasons behind Steve Grogan. He started four contests in 1980 and eight more the following year to earn the starting role in 1982, but gave way to Grogan after the first three outings.

Trades to San Francisco in 1983 and Philadelphia in 1986 resulted in reserve roles behind starters Joe Montana and Randall Cunningham, respectively. Cavanaugh started three games as a 49er and two as an Eagle.

Cavanaugh ended his playing career with the N.Y. Giants from 1990–91, adding a Super Bowl XXV ring as a Giant to his Super Bowl XIX ring as a 49er.

A three-year starter at Pitt from 1975–77, Cavanaugh was named the most valuable player in the Panthers' Sugar Bowl victory over Georgia that clinched the 1976 national title. As a senior in 1977, he earned all-America honors and was voted most valuable player of the Gator Bowl. His overall record as Pitt's starting quarterback was 15–4–1.

He ranks sixth on the school's all-time passing yardage list with 3,378 yards and held numerous school passing records before they were surpassed by Dan Marino.

Cavanaugh owns a degree in administration of justice from Pitt and has studied toward his master's degree in business.

Born on October 27, 1956 in Youngstown, Ohio, Cavanaugh and his wife, Nancy, have three children—Amy (12), Andrew (10), and Mollie (8).

George Martinez

Running Backs

Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan and George Martinez first crossed paths during the Philadelphia Eagles' mini-camp and training camp workouts prior to the 1989 and 1990 seasons while Ryan was head coach in the City of Brotherly Love and Martinez was a visiting coach.

Five years later as Ryan embarked upon his first season at the Cardinals' helm, he named Martinez, a veteran of 21 years of coaching at various levels of football, to his first Arizona staff as quality control coach.

Ryan promoted Martinez to running backs coach following the 1994 season.

In his first season overseeing the Cards' running corps, Martinez will have the opportunity to shepherd former first-round draft pick Garrison Hearst into his first season as a featured running back while blending the talents of versatile Larry Centers, who has developed into one of the finest pass receivers among NFL running backs.

Martinez joined the Cardinals after three years (1989–91) as head coach and offensive coordinator at New Mexico Highlands University, one season (1988) as head coach and offensive coordinator at Panhandle (Okla.) State, and 1993 as an assistant coach for the New Mexico state prep champion, Santa Rosa High School.

At New Mexico Highlands, Rex Ryan, the Cardinals' linebackers coach, served as defensive coordinator under Martinez.

Martinez began his coaching career in Oklahoma and California at the high school level for eight years from 1973–80, then enjoyed seven successful seasons as an assistant at East Central University (ECU) in Oklahoma, handling linebackers (1981–82, 85–87) and serving as passing-game coordinator (1983–84). The 1984 team appeared in the national playoffs for the first time in school history. ECU won the Oklahoma Intercollegiate Conference title four times (1984–87) during his tenure in Ada, Okla.

In 21 years of coaching, Martinez has won four conference championships on the college level and four league titles and a state championship on the high school level.

An all-state quarterback and punter at Kofa High School in Yuma, Arizona, Martinez attended the University of Arizona after being recruited by former Cardinals assistant coach Pete Rodriguez. Martinez transferred to Northwestern Oklahoma State, where he was a three-year starter and all-conference quarterback.

Martinez received tryouts with the Washington Redskins and Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League and played briefly in the Mid-America Professional Football League for the Tulsa Knights (1974–75).

Martinez was born August 5, 1951 in Fort Bragg, North Carolina, where his father, George, Sr., was a member of the 82nd Airborne Division.

Martinez and his wife, Benita, have two children—daughter Tara (17) and Scott (13).

Dan Neal

Offensive Line

Dan Neal, an 11-year veteran center with the Baltimore Colts and Chicago Bears, tutors the Cards' offensive line for the second consecutive season as he enters his eighth year coaching in the National Football League.

He rejoined Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan last season in Arizona after spending the 1986–90 campaigns as an assistant on Ryan's Philadelphia Eagle staffs. Neal remained in Philadelphia in 1991 on the first Eagle coaching staff of Ryan's successor, Rich Kotite.

Neal, 46, oversees the development of a youthful offensive line that finished 1994 as the youngest starting unit in the NFL. The arrival of guard Duval Love, a Pro Bowler last season with Pittsburgh, and tackle Larry Tharpe from Detroit, should strength the unit that returns an impressive nucleus of Ben Coleman, Ernest Dye, Anthony Redmon, and Ed Cunningham.

Neal entered the coaching ranks in 1986 as the Eagles' special teams coach during Ryan's first season in Philadelphia. After expanding his duties to assist offensive line coach Bill Walsh in 1987, Neal shared the position with Walsh from 1988–91 when the Eagles posted records of 10–6, 10–6, 11–5 and 10–6 and made three consecutive post-season appearances.

An 11th-round pick by the Baltimore Colts in the 1973 NFL Draft, Neal spent two seasons with the Colts before signing as a free agent with the Chicago Bears in 1975. As a Colt, Neal was coached by current Giants' Vice President and General Manager George Young. During nine seasons with the Bears, Neal was tutored by respected long-time NFL assistant Dick Stanfel.

Neal was part of the offensive line that created holes for NFL all-time leading rusher Walter Payton. Neal played 115 consecutive games for Chicago, including 81 straight starting roles, before suffering a career-ending back injury in 1983.

Neal has contributed to three team rushing titles—twice as a player (1977, '83 with the Bears) and once as a coach (1990 with Philadelphia).

Born August 30, 1949 in Corbin, Kentucky, Neal attended Atherton High School in Louisville before enrolling at the University of Kentucky, where he was the Wildcats' offensive captain in 1971 and '72.

Neal and his wife, Barbara, who reside in Phoenix, have two daughters—Kelly (14) and Tiffany (11).

Ted Plumb

Receivers/Tight Ends

Ted Plumb, a 21-year NFL coaching veteran, is associated with Cardinal Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan with the third different team.

Plumb and Ryan first served together as assistants on the staff of Chicago Bear Head Coach Mike Ditka. Plumb spent six seasons (1980–85) in Chicago as receivers coach, including the 1985 Super Bowl championship season.

Plumb followed Ryan to Philadelphia when the latter was named the Eagles' head coach in 1986, serving as assistant head coach-offense (1986–89) during the Eagles' rise to the playoffs and the development of Pro Bowl quarterback Randall Cunningham.

In 1995, his sixth season on the Cardinals' staff, Plumb will coach the receivers and tight ends for the second consecutive time. In 1993, Joe Bugel's final season at the Cardinals' helm, Plumb tutored the Card tight ends and H-backs after spending three seasons (1990–92) as the team's receivers coach.

Plumb will instruct a new-look receiving corps in 1995 that will feature Pro Bowler Rob Moore, obtained from the New York Jets in a draft-day trade, Auburn standout Frank Sanders, Arizona's top 1995 draft choice, another promising draftee, Tennessee's speedy Jimmy Williams, converted running back Chuck Levy, veteran Anthony Edwards, who is returning from a season-ending 1994 knee injury, and unsung returnees Kevin Knox and Bryan Reeves. Mammoth tight end Wendall Gaines, a converted defensive lineman, is an intriguing addition to the mix.

Plumb's receivers have posted noteworthy numbers since his Arizona arrival.

A year ago, veteran Gary Clark became the first receiver in NFL history to register 50 or more receptions in his first 10 seasons.

In 1992, Ricky Proehl (60) and Randal Hill (58) were joined by running back Larry Centers (50) to become the first Cardinal trio to each grab 50 or more passes in the same season since 1984.

In 1991, Ernie Jones (61), Proehl (55), and Hill (43) combined for 159 receptions, the third highest total by the Cards' top three wide receivers in franchise history.

In 1990, Proehl, Jones, and Roy Green became the third trio of Cardinal receivers to each catch over 40 passes in the same season. Proehl, a consensus all-rookie selection, became the first rookie to lead the team in receiving in 40 years (Bob Shaw, 1950).

Plumb, 55, broke into the professional ranks as offensive backfield coach for the New York Giants in 1974 before moving to Atlanta as quarterbacks and receivers coach for the Falcons from 1977–79.

A native of Reno, Nevada, Plumb was raised in northern California and played for the Buffalo Bills in 1962 following a successful collegiate career at Baylor as a wide receiver. He began his coaching career in the Texas prep ranks at Raymond High School (1963–64) and Lubbock High School (1965) before moving to Cerritos (Calif.) Junior College from 1966–67.

Three seasons (1968–70) at Texas Christian as receivers/tight ends coach, one (1971) at Tulsa and two (1972–73) at Kansas in the same role followed before his initial NFL job with the Giants in 1974.

Plumb and his wife, Marianna, have three children—sons Loyal (33) and John (32), and daughter Molly (26).

Al Roberts

Special Teams

Al Roberts returns for the second year to coach the Cardinals' special teams in 1995. He performed the same duties for Head Coach Buddy Ryan with the Philadelphia Eagles from 1988–90.

Last year in his first season with the Cardinals, Roberts' kickers tallied the deciding points in five of Arizona's eight wins, providing the margins of victory in two overtime games and two regulation contests. In one of the latter, field goals (four) provided all the Cardinal points in a 12–6 victory over Philadelphia, the first time the Cards won without the benefit of a touchdown in 28 years.

His kickoff unit provided the field position that led to the winning field goal in the October 30 overtime victory against Pittsburgh by causing and recovering a fumble on the extra-period kickoff. Punt-return coverage also excelled, allowing only 6.8 yards per return to rank fifth in the NFL. The longest punt return against the 1994 Cards was only 16 yards.

Arizona also blocked three field-goal attempts in as many consecutive games.

In 1994, Roberts nurtured one of the NFL's best kicking tandems—place kicker Greg Davis and punter Jeff Feagles. Davis, one of the NFL's hottest kickers, converted 13 of his last 14 field-goal attempts, including a franchise-record 11 consecutive three-point successes. His 76.9 percent (20 of 26) overall field-goal accuracy was the best in Cardinal history for a kicker with over 20 attempts and the best accuracy since Jim Bakken's team record of 79.2 percent in 1975. Feagles led the NFC with 33 punts inside the opponents' 20 yard line.

As the New York Jets' special teams coach from 1990–93, Roberts was responsible for a unit that led the league in kickoff return coverage (15.4 yards) and ranked second in punt returns (5.7 yards) in 1991, posted kickoff and punt-return coverage yields of 16.7 yards and 7.3 yards, respectively, to rank among the top five in 1992, and finished fourth in the league with a six-yard yield on punt returns in 1993.

Roberts, 51, began his coaching career at Mercer Island (Wash.) High School from 1969–72, then became a head coach at Garfield High School in Seattle from 1973–76, where he led the school to the 1976 city championship.

He joined the college ranks as running backs coach at the University of Washington from 1977–82 when the Huskies played in five bowl games, including three Rose Bowls.

Roberts joined the L.A. Express of the United States Football League from 1984–85 as running backs coach under Head Coach Hugh Campbell, and followed Campbell to the Houston Oilers in the same capacity for the 1984 and '85 seasons. After one-year stints on the college staffs at Purdue (1986) and Wyoming (1987) as running backs and special-teams coach, he joined Ryan with the Eagles in 1988.

Born January 6, 1944 in Merced, Calif., Roberts attended Merced High School and played collegiately at the University of Washington (1964–65) and the University of Puget Sound (1967–68) after a short time at Olympic Community College in Washington.

Roberts and his wife, Arvella, have two sons—Kali (25) and Kyle (20).

Rex Ryan

Linebackers

Rex Ryan shifts gears in his second season on the Cardinal coaching staff, assuming responsibility for the Arizona linebackers after tutoring its defensive line in 1994.

The switch merely changes names on the tutorial marquee for Ryan as he leaves standout linemen Eric Swann, Michael Bankston, and Clyde Simmons for headlining linebackers like Pro Bowler Seth Joyner, team captain Eric Hill, and former first-round draft choice Jamir Miller, a group his father, Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan, feels is the NFL's best front seven.

A year ago during Ryan's first season of professional coaching, his defensive line played a significant role in the Cardinals' defensive resurgence. Swann, who garnered Pro Bowl alternate status, collected 111 tackles, led the defense with 38 quarterback hurries and 23 tackles for loss. Bankston led all NFL defensive linemen with 138 total tackles. He and Swann shared the team lead with seven quarterback sacks. And end Keith McCants scored the Cards' only defensive touchdown with a 46-yard pass interception return.

Ryan utilized the "46" with great success during seven years of coaching at the NCAA Division I level as defensive coordinator at Morehead State University in Kentucky. His units ranked eighth and 19th nationally in total defense in 1990 and '92, respectively, set an Ohio Valley Conference (OVC) record with 53 quarterback sacks in 1990, established a school record with 17 interceptions in 1991, and led the nation in sacks twice in his four-year stay (1990–93) at the school.

In 1989, Ryan was assistant head coach and defensive coordinator at New Mexico Highlands under Cardinals' running backs coach George Martinez, where Ryan coached special teams and assisted in the overall defensive scheme. That year, the defense created havoc with a school-record 34 forced turnovers, 53 sacks, and 13 blocked kicks (seven punts, six kicks) in 10 games.

Ryan attended Stevenson High School in Prairie View, Illinois and played collegiately at Southwestern Oklahoma State. He joined the staff at Eastern Kentucky from 1987–89 as defensive ends coach where he tutored three all-Americas—Aaron Jones (first round, Pittsburgh Steelers, 1988), Jessie Small (second round, Philadelphia Eagles, 1989), and David Wilkens (free agent, San Francisco, 1992)—en route to consecutive conference titles.

Born December 13, 1962 in Ardmore, Oklahoma, Ryan owns a bachelor's degree in physical education from Southwestern Oklahoma and a master's degree in the same discipline from Eastern Kentucky. He and his wife, Michelle, have two sons, Rex Payton (3), whose middle name honors Chicago Bear great Walter Payton, and Daniel Seth (1). Ryan's twin brother, Rob, also is a member of the Cardinals' coaching staff.

Rob Ryan

Defensive Backs

Rob Ryan begins his second season as Arizona's defensive backs coach.

He is no stranger to the complicated "46" defensive scheme. He was weaned on the philosophy during his formative years while his father, Cardinal Head Coach and General manager Buddy Ryan, coached for the N.Y. Jets, Minnesota Vikings, Chicago Bears, Philadelphia Eagles, and Houston Oilers.

The Cardinal secondary improved dramatically in 1994 under Ryan's first-year tutelage. His defensive backs grabbed 18 of Arizona's 23 pass interceptions, a total that shared the NFL lead with eventual Super Bowl champion San Francisco. The defensive backfield also led the league by allowing a pass completion success rate of just 50.3 percent. In addition, the secondary allowed only 144 first-down completions, which ranked second in the NFL and first in the NFC, while also leading the NFC in third-down efficiency at 27.8 percent. Opponents managed just 189.9 yards passing per game, a figure that ranked fourth in the league.

Ryan's star pupil, cornerback Aeneas Williams, earned his first Pro Bowl nod (NFC starter) by tying for the NFL lead with nine pass interceptions, a total that equalled Arizona's 1993 team pickoff total.

The 1994 starting safeties, Lorenzo Lynch (140 tackles, 2 interceptions) and Terry Hoage (114 tackles, 3 interceptions), also enjoyed their finest NFL seasons, and sleeper Brent Alexander, an undrafted rookie, started seven games.

Ryan came to Arizona after five seasons at tradition-laden Tennessee State, where he coached the running backs (1989–91), linebackers (1992), and defensive line (1993).

Ryan's introduction to coaching came as an assistant at Western Kentucky in 1987 and Ohio State in 1988 where he assisted with the outside linebackers. After his five seasons at TSU, he was named defensive coordinator of the Washington Marauders of the Professional Spring Football League in 1992, but saw his first professional opportunity dissolve when the league disbanded before its first season.

Ryan attended Stevenson High School in Prairie View, Illinois and played three seasons as a defensive end and outside linebacker at Southwestern Oklahoma State.

Born December 13, 1962 in Ardmore, Oklahoma, Ryan owns a degree in physical education from Southwestern Oklahoma State. He has a son, Tyler (4). His twin brother, Rex, also is a Cardinal assistant coach.

Jim Stanley

Defensive Line

The lone new member of the Cardinals' 1995 coaching staff is defensive line coach Jim Stanley, former head coach of the Michigan Panthers (USFL) and Oklahoma State University, who begins his second tour of duty with Cardinal Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan.

Stanley, 61, enters his 12th season of NFL coaching in 1995, and joins the Cardinals following six seasons with the Houston Oilers that included one—1993—with Ryan as defensive coordinator when the Oilers set a club record with 52 quarterback sacks and ranked first in the NFL in both rushing defense (79.6 yards per game) and interceptions (26). Houston logged 50 sacks in 1992.

Before joining the Oilers, Stanley served as defensive coordinator for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1986.

From 1983–84, he compiled a 22–14 record as head coach of the Panthers, a span that included a 12–6 mark, the USFL championship, and league coach-of-the-year honors in 1983.

He spent 1979 and '80 as defensive line coach for the New York Giants and Atlanta Falcons, respectively.

As the six-year (1973–78) head coach at Oklahoma State, the Cowboys posted a 35–33–2 composite record and earned bowl victories in 1974 (Fiesta) and '76 (Tangerine). The latter 9–3 squad was Big Eight Conference co-champion. During his Stillwater stay, he also was selected to coach in the East-West Shrine Game (1973), the Hula Bowl (1977), and the Japan Bowl (1977).

Prior to his promotion to the Oklahoma State head-coaching position, Stanley was the Cowboys' defensive coordinator/assistant head coach for the 1972 season in his second stint at OSU.

Earlier, he was defensive coordinator for the Canadian Football League's Winnipeg Blue Bombers (1971–72), the U.S. Naval Academy, (1969–70) and Oklahoma State (1963–68).

His first two college coaching positions were as an assistant at Southern Methodist (1961) and Texas-El Paso (1962).

Stanley began his coaching career in the Amarillo, Texas high school system from 1959–60.

As a player, Stanley was a three-year starter at Texas A&M under legendary Head Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant. He played offense (guard) and defense (tackle) for the Aggies who went undefeated in 1956.

Born June 22, 1934 in Lynch, Kentucky, Stanley and his wife, Sylvia, have four children—daughters Rhonda (38) and Starlyn (33) and sons Mark (35) and Matthew (28).

Bob Rogucki

Strength and Conditioning

Bob Rogucki (row-GUS-key), strength and conditioning coach at West Point from 1983–89, begins his sixth year in the same capacity for the Cardinals.

Since joining the Cardinals, Rogucki has developed the weight room at the team's training facility that includes a wide range of equipment from bars and dumbbells to machines while implementing a strength and conditioning program that trains the total body. Rogucki's philosophy is to gear a training regimen specific to the game of football, involving training in a high-intensity mode that builds both muscular strength and endurance. The philosophy involves five body parts primary to the sport—neck, hips, legs, midsection, and torso—and focuses on developing the overall fitness of the athlete, including flexibility, cardio-respiratory fitness, muscular strength and endurance, recovery, and nutrition.

Rogucki, 42, also worked as an assistant for the Washington Redskins during their summer training camps at Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pennsylvania for seven years.

Rogucki joined the staff at West Point after similar posts at Weber State (1982) and as an assistant at Penn State (1981).

A native of Rosemont, West Virginia, he was an offensive lineman and linebacker as a high school and college athlete. He graduated from Glenville State College in his home state in 1975 before coaching football, basketball, and baseball on the high school level prior to accepting his first college coaching position at Penn State in 1981.

The author of several articles on strength and conditioning and a frequent speaker at clinics and public engagements, Rogucki and his wife, Mary, have two children—son Charlie (15) and daughter Katie (11).

Joe Woolley

Assistant to the General Manager

Joe Woolley, a 19-year veteran of National Football League front office and coaching positions with Houston, New Orleans, and Philadelphia, was named assistant to Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan in April of 1995.

Woolley, 57, will assist Buddy Ryan in the various administrative aspects of his position with primary responsibility for negotiating player contracts.

The Strong, Arkansas native entered the NFL as an assistant in charge of quality control for Houston from 1973–74 before coaching the Oilers' special teams in 1975. After a two-year stint in private business, he rejoined the Oilers as director of scouting from 1978–80.

He spent the next five seasons with New Orleans, the first three (1981–83) as a scout and the last two (1984–85) as director of scouting. While directing the Saints' scouting operation, Woolley was responsible for establishing an extensive film library which became a model for the NFL.

He spent 1986–93 in Philadelphia's front office as director of player personnel. Woolley's first five seasons with the Eagles were concurrent with Ryan's tenure as their head coach.

Woolley spent the 1994 season as director of player personnel and receivers coach for the Sacramento Gold Miners of the Canadian Football League.

Woolley also coached football, basketball, and baseball at Texarkana (Ark.) High School (1962–65) and Galveston (Tex.) Ball High School (1966–72), leading both schools to state playoff berths in football.

Woolley attended Oklahoma State where he lettered in football, baseball, and basketball (1960–61) while earning a bachelor's degree in education. He has a son, Scott, 31.

Keith Kidd

Director of Pro Scouting

Keith Kidd, 31, dons his third hat with the Cardinals in his fifth year with the organization.

Promoted to his current position in April, 1995, Kidd spent 1994 as the team's professional scout following three campaigns as a staff assistant.

As Arizona's director of professional scouting, Kidd's new responsibilities include handling the recruitment of free agents under the NFL's new collective bargaining agreement, overseeing the team's evaluation of professional players, and offering input into personnel decisions concerning the club's acquisition of veteran talent through free agency, trades, and waivers.

He also continues as training camp coordinator and shares contract negotiating responsibilities with Joe Woolley, assistant to the general manager.

Prior to joining the Cardinals, Kidd coached defensive backs for two seasons (1989–90) at Arizona State under Head Coach Larry Marmie. Before joining the ASU staff, Kidd coached tight ends at Eastern Kentucky in 1988 under his father, Head Coach Roy Kidd, when the Colonels finished as an NCAA Division I-AA playoff semifinalist.

Raised in a football family, Kidd credits much of his football knowledge to his father, who leads all Division I-AA coaches with a .733 (257–91–8) winning percentage. The senior Kidd also ranks third in overall victories in NCAA Division I and I-AA, trailing only Grambling State's Eddie Robinson (397) and Penn State's Joe Paterno (269).

Born August 8, 1964 in Richmond, Kentucky, Kidd received his bachelor's degree in administration and master's degree in sports administration from Eastern Kentucky. He and his wife, Laura, reside in Phoenix.

Bo Bolinger

Director of College Scouting

Long-time Cardinal scout Bo Bolinger was named the team's director of scouting in February, 1994 by Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan.

Prior to his promotion, Bolinger, now a 24-year member of the Cardinals' organization, had been primarily responsible for collegiate scouting in the West.

Before joining the Cardinals in 1971, Bolinger coached on the collegiate level for 11 years and spent two seasons as offensive line coach with the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League.

He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Oklahoma in 1956 following his playing days with the Sooners. After spending the 1957 season as head coach at Miami (Okla.) High School, Bolinger coached the offensive and defensive lines at the University of Denver from 1958–60. He accepted the defensive coordinator's post at Tulsa the following season, handling that role for two years.

In 1963, he moved to New Mexico as offensive and defensive coordinator. After five years with the Lobos, Bolinger spent one season (1968) as offensive coordinator at Utah State before joining the CFL.

As a player at Oklahoma, Bolinger earned all-America recognition in 1955 and twice was named an all-Big Eight Conference guard.

The 62-year-old Bolinger and his wife, Barbara, who reside in Tempe, Arizona, have three daughters—Sharon, Susan, and Sandra—and five grandchildren.

pre-game warm-ups vs. Washington (Oct. 4), took off uniform, and planned to watch punter Camarillo return the favor from season opener and handle all place-kicking duties ... after Camarillo missed an extra point following the first Phoenix score midway through third period, Davis asked to dress again, and in thrilling comeback victory, gingerly converted three extra points for the margin of victory in 27–24 triumph ... returned to form with four impressive kickoffs vs. New Orleans (Oct. 18), one sailing nine yards deep for a touchback, while the other three were returned for an average of just 12.3 yards ... misfired from 29 yards vs. San Francisco (Nov. 1), but nailed 33-yarder on final play of the first half to give Phoenix a 10–0 lead in 24–14 win ... connected on efforts from 21 and 32 yards in 20–14 win at L.A. Rams (Sept. 1) with 32-yarder with 2:45 remaining in 24–14 victory ... connected on all four attempts (22, 28, 42, and club-tying 52 yards) and a pair of points-after-touchdown for season-high 14 points in 26–10 victory at Philadelphia (Sept. 8) ... converted from 32, 32, and 29 yards vs. Dallas (Sept. 22) ... kicked three more field goals at N.Y. 1994 Review

1994 Review

Eric Swann emerged as one of the NFL's finest defensive tackles.

A guy named Webster defines "stride" as "a stage of progress." In a fella named Buddy Ryan's first season as head coach and general manager, the Arizona Cardinals made noticeable strides and progress on and off the field, measured by an 8–8 campaign that translated into the franchise's first non-losing season and highest victory total since 1984, flirtation with post-season play, a sturdy, vastly improved defense, and an energized community that doubled the season-ticket base, sold out Sun Devil Stadium three times, and set a franchise single-season home attendance record (497,330).

Though the season ended with a frustrating 10–6 loss at Atlanta on Christmas Eve, the Cards shook the effects of an unexpected 0–3 start to forge a 5–3 record in the second half of the season. They won five of their last seven outings. They beat the Giants at New York for the first time since 1983 and registered a triumph at Washington for the second consecutive season, a first since 1965.

Defense

Fueling the playoff hopes was a stifling defense that finished third in the league (275.5 yards per game) and led the NFL by yielding just 45 points in the fourth quarter. The unit was the league's stingiest scoring defense over the second half of the season (95 points or 11.9 points per game). Twelve of Arizona's 16 opponents—including the final nine—scored less than 20 points, the team's best scoring defense since 1935 when all 12 foes failed to crack the 20-point barrier.

Arizona's aggressive, attacking "46" defense led the league in fewest first downs allowed (245) and opponent third-down conversion efficiency (27.8 percent). It shared the league lead with Miami and San Francisco by intercepting 23 passes.

Combined with 13 fumble recoveries, Arizona's 36 takeaways led the NFC and ranked fourth in the league.

No enemy running back gained 100 yards on the ground; only six teams turned the trick.

Leading the defensive charge was a combination of newly-acquired talent and an awakening of some of Arizona's future stars. Known as one of football's more innovative and effective defensive coaches, Ryan revamped the Cards' defense by signing three of his former pupils who also were among the NFL's marquee free agents (linebackers Seth Joyner and Wilber Marshall, and defensive end Clyde Simmons), trading for a starting cornerback (James Williams), and blending them with the inherited defensive nucleus headlined by defensive tackle Eric Swann, defensive end/tackle Michael Bankston, cornerback Aeneas Williams, and middle linebacker Eric Hill.

The result was the highest-rated Card defense in 25 years. It commanded its loftiest modern-day ranking by finishing in the top five against the run (fourth), pass (fourth), and overall (third). The campaign marked the first time since 1970 a Cardinal defense ended a season ranked in the NFL's top 10.

Hill, the club's designated "franchise player," defensive captain, and signal-caller, cruised to a career-high and team-best 142 combined tackles to earn Pro Bowl second alternate status.

Flanking Hill on the outside were Joyner and Marshall. Joyner, who played for Ryan in Philadelphia from 1986–90, earned his third Pro Bowl berth with 86 tackles, 6 quarterback sacks, 11 tackles for loss, and 3 interceptions. In the Cards' 12–6 victory over his former Philadelphia teammates on Nov. 20, the nine-year veteran logged eight tackles and two sacks to earn NFC defensive player-of-the-week honors. Marshall, who toiled for Ryan at Houston in 1993, posted 73 tackles, 1 sack, 7 tackles for loss, and 2 forced fumbles manning the strong side.

The heir apparent at Marshall's spot, 1994 first-round draft choice Jamir Miller, took advantage of Marshall's injury-forced absence in the season finale at Atlanta to rattle the Falcons for 5 tackles, 2 sacks, 5 hurries, and 1 forced fumble to place his season output at 20 tackles, 3 sacks, 12 hurries, 3 tackles for loss, and 1 forced fumble.

Heading the defensive front (defensive line and linebackers) Ryan considered the NFL's best was Swann, who earned first alternate status for the Pro Bowl. In his fourth NFL season, he collected 111 tackles, led the defense with 38 quarterback hurries and 23 tackles for loss, and shared the team lead with seven quarterback sacks. By recording a safety in each of the past three seasons, Swann's three two-pointers ties him with 13 other NFL players just one safety behind the league record of four held jointly by Ted Hendricks (Baltimore, Green Bay, Oakland/L.A. Raiders) and Doug English (Detroit).

Statistically, however, the brass ring

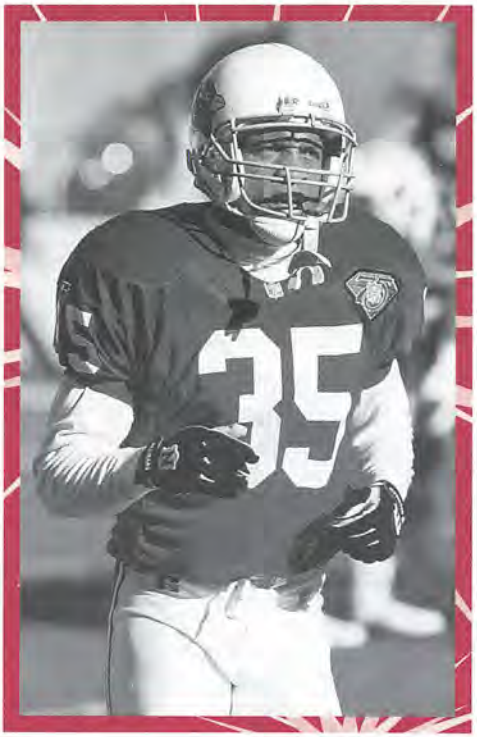
among Arizona's defensive linemen went to Bankston, who started the year at defensive tackle next to Swann for two games, moved outside to the left end spot for games three-15, then returned inside for the season finale. Bankston's 138 total tackles led all NFL defensive linemen. His seven sacks shared the team lead with Swann. Bankston also registered double digits in tackles a team-high seven times.

Simmons, who also played for Ryan in Philadelphia from 1986–90, added experience that enabled the defense to become effective almost immediately without the expected adjustment period. A two-time Pro Bowl pick, Simmons manned the left end for all 16 games to run his streak of consecutive starts to 124 games. He has not missed a contest in his 140-game NFL career. With 81 tackles and six sacks, Simmons now claims nine-year totals of 801 tackles and 82.5 quarterback sacks.

Upon his arrival in Arizona via waivers after spending the first two weeks of the season with Tampa Bay, unsung defensive tackle Bernard Wilson started 13 of the final 14 games, collecting 49 tackles and a sack. Another former Ryan warrior, defensive end Keith McCants, a first-round selection of the Buccaneers in 1990 who played for Ryan in Houston in 1993, signed with the Cardinals on November 2. Over the final eight games, including a starting role in the finale, McCants posted 19 tackles, 1 sack, 10 quarterback hurries, and scored the Card defense's only touchdown with a 46-yard interception return against Chicago on November 27.



Cornerback Aeneas Williams tied for the NFL lead with nine pass interceptions to earn his first Pro Bowl berth.

Ryan's pressure-minded defensive scheme isolates the cornerbacks. A. Williams flourished in the new system, sharing the league lead with nine interceptions and earning an NFC starting spot in the Pro Bowl. The nine thefts were the most by a Cardinal since safety Ken Stone (nine) in 1978 and the most by a Cardinal cornerback since Pat Fischer collected 10 in 1964. A. Williams also led the Cards in work ethic and with 28 passes defensed, more than double the total of his nearest teammate (J. Williams, 11). A. Williams garnered NFC defensive player-of-the-week honors at Washington on October 16 with two interceptions.

J. Williams, acquired in a trade with Buffalo during the spring, started six of the first seven games opposite his namesake, A. Williams, and posted a season total of 31 tackles and four interceptions.

Larry Centers was an offensive bright spot by leading the Cardinals in receiving for the second consecutive season. His 77 catches set a team record for receptions by a running back.

Brent Alexander, a rookie, started the final six games of the season, seven overall, and contributed 56 tackles and 10 deflected passes.

Ranking second behind E. Hill in tackles was safety Lorenzo Lynch, who registered a career-high 140 total tackles, intercepted two passes, and forced a pair of fumbles. Lynch, who started the first six and last six games at strong safety and three others at cornerback in between, authored a monster game November 27 against Chicago with 1994 team highs in combined tackles (21) and solo stops (14).

Veteran Terry Hoage, who played for Ryan in Philadelphia and Houston, entered his second decade of NFL play by starting all 16 games at weak safety. Likened to a coach on the field for his knowledge of the defensive alignments, Hoage's 114 tackles were a career-high; his three interceptions were his most since tying for the league lead with eight thefts as an Eagle in 1988.

Offense

Arizona's ball-control offense led the league in time of possession with a 32:37 average, but struggled otherwise. Its 23 touchdowns were lowest in the league, and just one was tallied from beyond the 20-yard line. Only Houston (226) scored fewer points than the Cards (235). The unit was held without a touchdown five times and narrowly avoided six-point shutouts on two other occasions—November 6 at Philadelphia and November 13 at New York (Giants)—with late touchdowns.

Despite the offensive frustrations and plans for an overhaul, Ryan liked what he saw of a bulky, young offensive line. By season's end, the starting unit of tackles Ben Coleman (335 pounds, 23 years old) and Joe Wolf (296, 28), guards Ernest Dye (325, 23) and rookie Anthony Redmon (308, 23), and center Ed Cunningham (285, 25) averaged 310 pounds, but more importantly, only 24.4 years of age. The latter figure made it the youngest starting unit in the league.

The Cards' corps of running backs—Ronald Moore, Larry Centers, Garrison Hearst, and Mark Higgs—was durable, reliable, and impressive.

Workhorse Moore led the team in rushing with 780 yards. He posted the Cards only 100-yard effort on the ground with 118 yards at Washington on October 16. He also caught his only career touchdown pass versus the Giants on September 11.

The indispensable Centers, a Pro Bowl first alternate, led the Cardinals in crowd pleasing and pass receiving for the second consecutive season with 77 catches, a team record for running backs. Ottis Anderson held the record with 70 grabs in 1984.

Centers' 77 catches tied for second among NFL running backs. He also led the Cards with five rushing touchdowns and seven overall six-pointers.

Hearst flashed the promise that made him the Cardinals' first-round draft choice in 1993 (third overall) during the season's second half after fully recovering from his 1993 knee injury. He led the Cards in rushing December 4 at Houston with 56 yards on only three late-game rushes. One week later, he saved Arizona's bacon with one of his three receptions, a swing pass he turned into a clutch 29-yard fourth-down gain to the Redskins' six-yard line with 1:21 remaining that set the table for the game-winning field goal three plays later. December 18 against Cincinnati, he authored the Cards' first two touchdowns by land (one-yard run) and air (10-yard pass to Centers). He also added 62 team-leading rushing yards against the Bengals.

Higgs, the former Eagle and Dolphin who also played for Ryan in Philadelphia, contributed 127 yards rushing on 43 carries after signing in November as a free agent.

Veteran Gary Clark persevered through nagging leg and groin injuries and a relief role (only two starts) to register 50 receptions and become the first NFL receiver to catch 50 or more passes in his first 10 seasons.

Clark finished 1994 tied with Washington's Henry Ellard for eighth place on the all-time NFL receptions list with 662 catches, trailing only Art Monk (934), Jerry Rice (820), Steve Largent (819), James Lofton (764), Charlie Joiner (750), and Andre Reed (676).

Ironman Ricky Proehl led the receivers with 51 catches and five touchdown receptions while completing his fifth consecutive NFL season without missing a game.

Speedy Randal Hill, who wrestled the starting job from Clark, caught 38 passes without a touchdown.

Quarterback became a relay race between three veterans. The baton passed from incumbent Steve Beuerlein to Jim McMahon to Jay Schroeder, back to Beuerlein, then back to Schroeder.

By season's end, Beuerlein's numbers (130 of 255, 51 percent, 1,545 yards, 5 touchdowns, 9 interceptions in seven starts) and Schroeder's companion statistics (133 of 238, 55.9 percent, 1,150 yards, 4 touchdowns, 7 interceptions in eight starts) were remarkably similar. Schroeder, however, started the season's final six games when the Cards won four times and flirted with the playoffs. He was efficient during that span, completing 101 of 173 passes (58.4 percent) for 1,156 yards and three touchdowns.

Schroeder, who owns 99 career NFL starts as a Redskin, Raider, and Cardinal, boasts a .626 (62–27) career winning percentage in those outings.

McMahon appeared in just two games. He started September 18 at Cleveland. He also tossed his 100th career touchdown pass in his first Cardinal appearance September 11 vs. the Giants.

The three vets completed the season boasting composite career totals that included 46,938 yards passing and 263 touchdown tosses.

Special Teams

Greg Davis finished the season as one of the NFL's hottest kickers, converting 13 of his last 14 field-goal attempts, including a franchise-record 11 consecutive three-point successes to eclipse the club record of 10 held jointly by Al Del Greco (1989) and Jim Bakken (1975, '65–66).

Following his impressive 1993 campaign when he boasted 75 percent field-goal accuracy, Davis connected on 20 of 26 three-point attempts overall in 1994 for a 76.9 percent success rate, the best accuracy in history for a Cardinal kicker with over 20 single-season field goals and the best overall accuracy since Bakken made 19 of 24 tries (79.2 percent) in 1975.

Davis also became the first player in franchise history to convert at least 75 percent of his field-goal attempts for two consecutive seasons.

He also thrived on pressure kicks, winning two games with last-minute field goals, sending another into overtime, and accounting for deciding points in five of the team's eight victories.

Even without Davis, the Cards' kicking game delivered. When Davis missed week six at Washington with a pulled hamstring, his replacement, Todd Peterson, booted a 29-yard overtime field goal to defeat the Redskins in his first NFL game.

Another former Ryan Eagle, punter Jeff Feagles, migrated to his native Phoenix. He hammered personal highs with 98 punts for 3,997 yards, 33 boots inside the 20-yard line, and the second-best net punting average (36 yards) of his seven-year career.

Feagles has pinned the opponent inside its own 20-yard line 176 times in seven seasons. Over the past four campaigns, he has led the NFC in that category in 1991 (29), 1992 (26), and 1994 (33) while leading the entire NFL in 1993 (31).

Feagles' consistency and Arizona's kick-coverage units combined to limit the opposition to a punt-return average of only 6.8 yards per kick to rank fifth in the league. Additionally, the longest punt return the Cards allowed was only 16 yards, best in the league.

Patrick Robinson, claimed via waivers from Cincinnati early in the season, posted a seven-yard average on 41 punt returns to rank ninth in the NFC and doubled as a kickoff returner with a 19.3-yard average on 12 attempts.

Rookie Chuck Levy was the club's primary kickoff returner with 26 returns and a 19.7-yard average.

Arizona also blocked three opponent field goals in 1994 in as many consecutive games. Swann started the streak with a deflection at Dallas (October 9), followed by Joyner's block of an overtime attempt by Washington (October 16), and an E. Hill block vs. Dallas (October 23).

Also, A. Williams blocked a punt against the Giants (Sept. 11) and long-snapper Randy Kirk forced a Steeler fumble on the overtime kickoff that set the stage for a sudden-death victory against Pittsburgh (October 30) via a dramatic Davis field goal.

Greg Davis finished 1995 as one of the NFL's hottest kickers, converting 13 of his last 14 field-goal attempts, including a franchise-record 11 consecutive three-pointers.

Rams 14, Cardinals 12

Sept. 4, 1994 • Anaheim Stadium (32,969)

A stifling defensive effort could not overcome inopportune offensive turnovers as the Cardinals fell to the Rams in Buddy Ryan's debut as Arizona's head coach. The Cards prevailed in every statistical category except the important one—scoring! L.A. gained only 152 total yards (50 rushing, 102 passing) and completed just six passes. Ram runner Jerome Bettis was limited to 52 yards on 21 carries. Arizona enjoyed a decisive 38:22–21:38 advantage in time of possession. But the sluggish Cardinal offense, which gained only 230 total yards, also led to both L.A. touchdowns—a 74-yard return of fullback Larry Centers' first-quarter fumble by Ram defensive back Todd Lyght, and a three-play, 55-yard drive that followed a midfield pass interception by Ram defensive back Marquez Pope.

Card cornerback James Williams sparkled, recovering a fumble, intercepting one pass, deflecting two passes, and making two tackles, including a touchdown-saving stop of Ram wide receiver Jessie Hester inside the Arizona five yard line.

Giants 20, Cardinals 17

Sept. 11, 1994 • Sun Devil Stadium (60,066)

Turnovers (two intercepted passes, one fumble) and penalties (10–150) spelled defeat in Buddy Ryan's regular-season home debut as head coach of the Cardinals. The Giants' first touchdown was a direct result of the former, their second and third products of the latter. Arizona's first play from scrimmage, a pass from its own 10-yard line, was intercepted. Five plays later, New York led 7–0. Ninety-one of the 140 yards the Giants covered on their two ensuing touchdown drives were compliments of penalties.

While Arizona held the Giants scoreless in the second half, it could muster only seven points, a three-yard pass from relief quarterback Jim McMahon in his first Cardinal appearance to running back Ronald Moore.

Offensively, Arizona managed only 174 total net yards, including just 39 on the ground. Defensively, tackle Michael Bankston posted two and one-half quarterback sacks and 14 tackles (11 solos).

Browns 32, Cardinals 0

Sept. 18, 1994 • Cleveland Stadium (62,818)

The Cardinals suffered their first shutout in 43 games (Oct. 27, 1991 vs. Minnesota) and the first of Buddy Ryan's 82-game head-coaching career. Offensive frustrations continued to plague Arizona. The Cards' leading rusher (31 yards) was quarterback Jim McMahon in his first start for Arizona in his second appearance. Arizona failed to gain 100 team rushing yards. Six of 13 possessions, including the first three, ended in three plays. McMahon and his relief, Jay Schroeder, were intercepted three times. The final steal, off Schroeder in his first Cardinal appearance, was returned 93 yards for a touchdown by Browns' defensive back Eric Turner, the longest interception return in history against the Cardinals.

Despite the one-sided outcome, Arizona trailed only 3–0 at halftime, but Cleveland scored touchdowns on three of its first four second-half possessions, capped by an 81-yard scoring connection from quarterback Vinny Testaverde to rookie wide receiver Derrick Alexander, to seize a commanding 25–0 lead.

Defensive tackle Eric Swann led Arizona with nine tackles, including eight solo stops, another tackle for loss, its only quarterback sack, and a caused fumble. Cornerback Aeneas Williams registered his first interception of the season

Cardinals 17, Vikings 7

Oct. 2, 1994 • Sun Devil Stadium (67,950)

The Cardinals took control of a defensive struggle with 10 fourth-quarter points to post a series of "firsts"—Arizona's "first" victory of 1994, Buddy Ryan's "first" success at the team's helm, the "first" start in a Cardinal uniform by quarterback Jay Schroeder, and winning the turnover battle for the "first" time in 1994.

The largest crowd (67,950) to watch a Cardinal home-field victory saw the Arizona defense pace the triumph by smothering Minnesota's running game (18 yards), the lowest total by a Cardinal opponent since 1983 (Philadelphia, 14 yards, Dec. 18 at St. Louis). The Card defenders also made two interceptions (cornerback Aeneas Williams, linebacker Seth Joyner) and recovered two fumbles (cornerback James Williams, defensive end Michael Bankston).

Tied 7–7 early in the fourth quarter, the Cards converted a bobbled center snap on a Viking field-goal attempt into a 46-yard Greg Davis field goal. After forcing a Minnesota punt, a four-play, 75-yard Cardinal drive ended with running back Larry Centers' six-yard touchdown jaunt.

Schroeder, the third Card quarterback to start in the season's first four games, impressed by completing 20 of 36 passes for 221 yards and driving Arizona to its "first" opening-drive points of the season on a four-yard touchdown pass to tight end Derek Ware, his career "first."

Viking wide receiver Cris Carter established a Cardinal opponent single-game record with 14 pass receptions.

Cowboys 38, Cardinals 3

October 9, 1994 • Texas Stadium (64,518)

Arizona was overwhelmed by the two-time defending Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys 38–3 at Texas Stadium, the Pokes' eighth consecutive victory over the Cardinals. Dallas tallied 21 first-quarter points to equal the Cards' opponent single-game record, and scored touchdowns on four of its first five possessions. The Dallas offense held the Cards without a turnover or quarterback sack while two Cowboy quarterbacks completed 19 of 28 passes for 273 yards and two touchdowns. Poke wide receiver Michael Irvin was the chief benefactor, grabbing eight passes for 136 yards and a touchdown.

Two Arizona quarterbacks—starter Jay Schroeder and Steve Beuerlein—were intercepted five times, the most against the Cardinals since Washington also pilfered five Card passes on Nov. 29, 1992.

The Cardinals even lost ground when they scored. Following Greg Davis' 42-yard third-quarter field goal, Cowboy Kevin Williams returned his ensuing kickoff 87 yards for a touchdown, a first against the Cards since New England's Jon Vaughn turned the trick on Sept. 29, 1991.

Cardinals 19, Redskins 16 (OT)

October 16, 1994 • R.F.K. Stadium (50,019)

The Cardinals' 19–16 overtime victory at Washington gave Arizona back-to-back victories at R.F.K. Stadium and three consecutive overall successes over the Redskins for the first time since 1964–65.

Arizona intercepted five passes by Redskin rookie quarterback Heath Shuler while limiting him to 11-of-32 marksmanship for 158 air yards. The five pickoffs were a Cardinal first since Dec. 3, 1978 (Detroit). Washington logged only 85 yards rushing. The 'Skins never penetrated closer to the Arizona end zone than the 34-yard line and were one-for-12 on third-down conversions.

Nevertheless, the Cards fell behind 14–0 in the first half, the result of a 46-yard touchdown pass from Shuler to Brian Mitchell, and Darrell Green's 27-yard interception return for a touchdown just before intermission. Two fourth-quarter Card touchdowns, the last a five-yard pass with 27 seconds remaining, knotted the contest at 16–16. In overtime, kicker Todd Peterson, appearing in his first NFL game, made a 29-yard game-winning field goal with 4:56 left on the Cards' first play from scrimmage following their fifth interception that safety Terry Hoage made and returned 23 yards.

Cowboys 28, Cardinals 21

Oct. 23, 1994 • Sun Devil Stadium (71,023)

The Cardinals dropped their ninth consecutive decision to Dallas in a see-saw 28–21 turnover-free contest. Big plays cost the Cards the upset they seemed to have within their grasp after taking a 21–14 fourth-quarter lead. After the Cowboys marched 67 yards for a touchdown on their opening drive, the Cards took the lead with two second-quarter touchdowns, the first a one-yard quarterback sneak by Steve Beuerlein one play after wide receiver Gary Clark's 45-yard pass reception, and a four-yard Ronald Moore burst. A 23-yard Emmitt Smith run set the table for the Pokes' tying tally that sent the teams into the locker room knotted at 14–14 at halftime.

Following a scoreless third quarter, wide receiver Ricky Proehl staked the Cards to a 21–14 lead with a nine-yard touchdown reception. But the big-play bugaboo stunned Arizona again. Playing without dazed Troy Aikman, Dallas rallied behind quarterback Rodney Peete with a game-tying 65-yard touchdown pass to Irvin and a 79-yard touchdown drive on its next possession that included a 39-yard completion to wide receiver Alvin Harper.

Cardinals 20, Steelers 17 (OT)

Oct. 30, 1994 • Sun Devil Stadium (65,690)

The Cardinals' second consecutive home sellout crowd—a first since moving to Phoenix—saw Arizona's second overtime victory in a three-week span. Ball-control offense (11:28 advantage) and a staunch defense (one interception, two recovered fumbles, four quarterback sacks) that held the opposition below 100 rushing yards for the seventh time in eight outings was the difference.

The Cardinals jumped to a 10–7 first-half lead, highlighted by their longest play of the season, a 63-yard pass reception by wide receiver Ricky Proehl, that set the table for a four-yard Larry Centers touchdown run. The lead was short-lived when Steeler quarterback Neil O'Donnell hit wide receiver Yancy Thigpen for a 60-yard touchdown pass. The Cards responded with an eight-play, 74-yard drive that running back Ronald Moore ended with a one-yard touchdown plunge, giving Arizona a 17–14 halftime lead.

A near-sack turned into a 46-yard pass completion to Steeler tight end Eric Green that set the stage for Gary Anderson's game-tying field goal with 51 seconds remaining.

Card linebacker/long snapper Randy Kirk caused a fumble on the overtime kickoff that Arizona recovered, and four plays later, Greg Davis booted the 51-yard game-winning field goal.

Eagles 17, Cardinals 7

Nov. 6, 1994 • Veterans Stadium (64,952)

The big-play bugaboo was the difference in a two-way defensive struggle in the Philadelphia return of Head Coach Buddy Ryan and six ex-Eagles playing for the Cardinals.

The Eagles broke a scoreless deadlock when Eddie Murray booted a 36-yard field goal with five seconds remaining in the first half. Lightning struck the Cards' defense on Philadelphia's first two second-half possessions when Eagles' quarterback Randall Cunningham found wide receiver Fred Barnett with 47- and 50-yard touchdown passes. The latter deflected off the hands of Cardinal weak safety Terry Hoage.

The Cardinals avoided a shutout with a late five-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Steve Beuerlein to wide receiver Ricky Proehl with 1:51 to play. They also lost a scoring opportunity after the Eagles' pair of touchdowns when Beuerlein fumbled after driving Arizona to Philadelphia's 17-yard line, and were victimized by field position that forced them to begin three second-half possessions inside their own 20-yard line.

Cardinals 10, Giants 9

Nov. 13, 1994 • Giants Stadium (71,719)

The Cardinals snapped their 10-game losing streak at Giants Stadium with a dramatic 10–9 victory over New York.

Arizona's fourth scoreless first half of the season put it in a 9–0 hole at intermission. The Giants jumped to their lead on a four-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Kent Graham to tight end Aaron Pierce to cap a 13-play, 72-yard opening drive. They padded it when Cardinal left guard Ernest Dye was flagged for holding in the Arizona end zone for a safety.

But the Cards' defense stymied the Giants in the second half, holding New York scoreless while limiting the Giants to 56 total yards (21 rushing, 35 passing), three first downs, and one-for-six third-down conversion success in the second stanza. Card kicker Greg Davis closed the gap to 9–3 with a 45-yard third-quarter field goal. The Cards appeared on the verge of taking their first lead when their next possession resulted in a long drive that had them first-and-goal from New York's three-yard line. But the Giants turned Arizona away four times, including the last three tries from the one-yard line. After forcing a New York punt, the Cards began marching again, this time ending the drive with a nine-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Steve Beuerlein to rookie wide receiver Bryan Reeves. It was Reeves' first NFL touchdown reception.

Cardinals 12, Eagles 6

Nov. 20, 1994 • Sun Devil Stadium (62,779)

The Cardinals won without the benefit of a touchdown for the first time in 28 years (6–3 vs. Pittsburgh, Nov. 27, 1966) in the second meeting against Philadelphia in three weeks. The contest also marked the first time in 22 years (6–6 at Philadelphia, Nov. 5, 1972) the Cardinals played a game without either team tallying a touchdown.

Arizona rode a muffling defense and kicker Greg Davis to victory. Philadelphia gained only 185 total yards, including 21 at halftime. The Cards stopped Philadelphia in 11 out of 14 third-down situations. Eagle quarterback Randall Cunningham completed only 17 of 44 passes. He was sacked four times. Quarterback Jay Schroeder, making his third Cardinal start, directed an offense that moved the ball (281 total yards, season-low 123 passing) but couldn't penetrate the end zone. Three times Cardinal drives stalled at the Eagle seven-yard line, resulting in 24-yard Davis field goals in the first, second, and third quarters, respectively. The Arizona defense rose to the occasion in the second half, intercepting (Aeneas Williams) Cunningham at the Cards' one-yard line, forcing (safety Terry Hoage) and recovering (Williams) Eagle running back Herschel Walker's midfield fumble, and stopping Philadelphia's final scoring threat at the Cardinal 24-yard line. The Walker fumble led to the fourth Davis field goal, a 39-yarder.

Bears 19, Cardinals 16 (OT)

Nov. 27, 1994 • Sun Devil Stadium (65,922)

The Cardinals' third overtime outing in a seven-game span turned into a 19–16 setback when Chicago's Kevin Butler kicked his fourth field goal with 6:49 remaining in the extra period that the Cards forced with 10 game-tying fourth-quarter points.

The Bears controlled the contest by taking leads of 7–0, 13–3, and 16–6 behind a 40-carry, 132-yard rushing attack. Arizona's defense tallied its first six-pointer of the season to cut Chicago's advantage to 16–13 when defensive end Keith McCants intercepted his first first career pass and returned it 46 yards for his first touchdown. After the Cards forced a Chicago punt on its ensuing possession, they drove 55 yards in 13 plays for kicker Greg Davis' third field goal, a 47-yarder, that tied the game with 1:04 left.

The Cardinals enjoyed the first overtime possession but stalled at the Chicago 38-yard line. The Bears followed with a 70-yard drive, highlighted by a 44-yard pass from quarterback Steve Walsh to wide receiver Jeff Graham, that led to Butler's game-winning field goal.

Cardinals 30, Oilers 12

Dec. 4, 1994 • Astrodome (39,821)

Arizona posted season highs in points (30) and rushing yards (161), a two-to-one time-of-possession advantage (39:55–20:05), and an impressive defensive effort to down Houston.

The Oilers' defense staked 1–11 Houston to a quick 9–0 first-quarter lead by tackling Card quarterback Jay Schroeder in the end zone for a safety and returning an interception 36 yards for a touchdown (Cris Dishman). Five Card pass interceptions, one fumble recovery, and four quarterback sacks paced Arizona's comeback, leading to two field goals, a touchdown, and a safety. The first of two rushing touchdowns by running back Larry Centers broke the Cards' nine-quarter touchdownless drought. Trailing 12–10 late in the second quarter, the Cardinals tallied 20 fourth-quarter points. Kicker Greg Davis' second field goal, a 23-yarder, was his 10th straight success, equalling the Cards' record for consecutive field goals.

Safety Terry Hoage led the dominant defense with two pass interceptions and a fumble recovery. Cornerback Aeneas Williams assumed the NFL interception lead with his eighth pickoff.

Cardinals 17, Redskins 15

Dec. 11, 1994 • Sun Devil Stadium (53,790)

Kicker Greg Davis' 27-yard franchise-record 11th consecutive field goal as time expired propelled the Cardinals to a 17–15 victory over Washington and the Cards first four-game winning streak against the Redskins since 1963–65.

Arizona jumped ahead when quarterback Jay Schroeder found wide receiver Ricky Proehl with a 48-yard first-quarter touchdown pass, the Cards' longest offensive scoring play of the season and their only one outside the 20-yard line.

Running back Ronald Moore capped an 80-yard drive with a one-yard touchdown run, but the game's complexion changed quickly on Washington's next two possessions when a 52-yard touchdown pass from rookie quarterback Heath Shuler to wide receiver Henry Ellard and a 21-yard Chip Lohmiller field goal gave the Redskins a late 15–14 lead. The Cardinal offense responded with a 61-yard march prior to Davis' heroics. The big play of the drive was running back Garrison Hearst's 29-yard fourth-and-one pass reception to the Redskins' six-yard line.

Cornerback Aeneas Williams raised his NFL-leading interception total to nine. Washington's 406 total yards made it the only team to crack 400 yards against the Cards.

Cardinals 28, Bengals 7

Dec. 18, 1994 • Sun Devil Stadium (50,110)

The Cardinals tallied touchdowns on three consecutive first-half possessions to seize an insurmountable 21–0 lead, raising Arizona's record (8–7) over .500 in December for the first time since 1984.

The one-sided contest featured the Cards' 41:31–18:29 time-of-possession advantage and another smothering defensive effort that limited the Bengals to 189 total net yards (33 in the first half) and produced two turnovers (one interception, one recovered fumble), and a third turnover (recovered fumble) by Arizona's special teams. Running back Garrison Hearst authored the Cards' first two touchdowns, the first a one-yard run, the second a 10-yard pass to running back Larry Centers. A 15-yard connection from quarterback Jay Schroeder to wide receiver Ricky Proehl early in the second quarter produced the third touchdown. Centers, who later rushed for the final touchdown on a 10-yard draw play, caught four passes to raise his season total to 72, breaking Ottis Anderson's 70-catch 1984 single-season franchise reception record for running backs. The 50,110 fans raised the Cards' 1994 home attendance total to 497,330, breaking the team's 1988 single-season record of 472,93.

Falcons 10, Cardinals 6

Dec. 24, 1994 • Georgia Dome (35,311)

The Cardinals' playoff aspirations and hopes for a winning season were dashed on Christmas Eve in Atlanta when the Falcons handed Arizona a 10–6 setback and an 8–8 record, the Cards' first non-losing season since 1984.

Despite posting their best total yardage (385) and passing yardage (313) numbers of 1994, the Cardinals' season-long offensive frustrations continued when four drives ended inside the Falcons' 10-yard line—the four (field goal), three (fumble), nine (downs), and one (final play) yard lines—and produced only three points and Arizona's fifth touchdownless offensive day of the season.

The contest's dramatic conclusion included a 40-yard pass from quarterback Jay Schroeder to wide receiver Gary Clark to Atlanta's two-yard line with three seconds to play. A Falcon offsides penalty placed the ball at the Atlanta one-yard line for the game's final play, an unsuccessful plunge into the line by Cardinal running back Ronald Moore.

Clark's reception was his 50th of the season to make him the only receiver in NFL history to record 50 or more grabs in each of his first 10 campaigns. The game's only touchdown was an 85-yard first-quarter pass from Atlanta quarterback Jeff George to wide receiver Bert Emanuel, the longest play of the season allowed by the Cards' defense. Defensive tackle Eric Swann intercepted the first pass of his career in the third quarter.

History

Franchise History

The Cardinals, a charter member of the National Football League, boast the distinction of being the oldest continuously run professional football franchise in the nation.

The Early Days

Founded in 1898, the team began as a neighborhood group which gathered to play football in a predominantly Irish area of Chicago's south side, playing under the name Morgan Athletic Club. The team later was acquired by Chris O'Brien, a painting and decorating contractor, and soon its playing site changed to nearby Normal Field, prompting the new name Normals.

In 1901, the team gained longstanding identification when O'Brien, finding a bargain, bought used jerseys from the nearby University of Chicago. The jerseys were faded maroon in color, prompting O'Brien to declare, "That's not maroon, it's Cardinal red!" The club's permanent nickname had been born!

The jersey color and the location of the field led to a new and obvious name, the Racine Cardinals.

In Chicago at the time, football competition was exclusively amateur, but such opposition became increasingly hard to find, so in 1906, the team had to disband.

In 1913, O'Brien reorganized the Cardinals. By 1917 they were able to buy new uniforms and hire a coach, Marshall Smith. That year they lost only two games and were champions of the Chicago Football League.

The war in Europe and a flu epidemic in the United States forced the team to suspend operations once again in 1918. Following Armistice Day, O'Brien organized the Cardinals for a third time. From that day forward, the Cardinals have been a permanent part of the professional football scene in America.

Growth

The Racine Cardinals, their popularity growing in the Chicago area, eventually became one of 11 charter members of the American Professional Football League, forerunner of the NFL, in 1920 for the $100 franchise fee. Immediately after joining the league, O'Brien lured a great halfback, John "Paddy" Driscoll, to the Cardinals for $3,000 a year, a sum considered outlandish at the time. But Driscoll was an authentic superstar, a superior runner, blocker, punter, and possibly the finest drop kicker in the history of football.

In 1922, a team from Racine, Wisconsin joined the NFL, prompting the Cardinals to change their name to the Chicago Cardinals. The Cardinals also moved into their new home, Comiskey Park, the same year.

Under new Head Coach Norman Barry, the Cardinals outdistanced a field of 20 teams to win their first NFL championship in 1925.

A Chicago physician, Dr. David Jones, purchased the team in 1929. In his first year of ownership, he coaxed running back Ernie Nevers out of retirement to become player-coach. Still in his prime, the 26-year-old Nevers scored 40 points on six touchdowns and four extra points in an historic 40–6 victory over the crosstown Bears on Thanksgiving Day, 1929.

After guiding the Cardinals to a 16–14–3 composite record in three seasons, the legendary Nevers retired as both coach and player in 1932.

Modern Era

Nevers' departure also marked the arrival of a new club owner, Charles W. Bidwill, Sr., a vice president of the Chicago Bears, purchased the Cardinals for Jones' asking price of $50,000. Bidwill divested himself of his Bears' holdings and a new era began.

However, the team sorely missed Nevers' magic on the field. The Cardinals endured difficult years in the 1930s and early '40s. World War II hit the team heavily. The Cardinals' top passer, receiver, and lineman—Johnny Clement, Bill Dewell, and Joe Kuharich, respectively—entered the service. In 1944 as a war-time emergency measure, the Cardinals combined with the Pittsburgh Steelers to play as one team. It was called Card-Pitt. Co-coached by the Cardinals' Phil Handler and the Steelers' Walt Kiesling, a former Cardinal guard, the team split its home games between Chicago's Comiskey Park and Forbes Field in Pittsburgh but failed to win a game in 10 tries.

Success finally returned following the war. In 1945, the arrival of University of Missouri quarterback Paul Christman trumpeted the team's conversion to the "T" formation. Fullback Pat Harder and halfback Elmer Angsman were added in 1946. And in 1947, the "million dollar backfield" was completed when halfback Charley Trippi became a Cardinal.

Coached by Jimmy Conzelman, the 1947 Cardinals stormed to the Western Division title and a 28–21 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles in the NFL championship game on the frozen Comiskey Park turf on Chicago's south side.

But the 1947 title season was bittersweet for the Cardinals' organization when the April death of Bidwill deprived the owner of witnessing the club's first NFL crown in 22 years. With his passing, Bidwill's widow, Violet Bidwill, assumed control of the franchise for the next 15 years, a span that included a second consecutive Western Division championship and appearance in the 1948 NFL championship game, a 7–0 loss at Philadelphia, and the transfer of the team from Chicago to St. Louis in 1960.

Upon Mrs. Bidwill's death in January of 1962, control moved to sons Charles W. Bidwill, Jr. and William V. Bidwill. In 1972, the latter and his family gained sole ownership with William becoming managing general partner. On July 1, 1976, incorporation of the company was accomplished with Bidwill continuing as chief executive officer.

After 14 years in the city, the Cardinals

brought their first championship to St. Louis in 1974. The Big Red captured the NFC East Division flag under Head Coach Don Coryell and advanced to the playoffs with a 10–4 regular-season record.

However, the Cardinals lost to the Minnesota Vikings, 30–14, in their first playoff appearance since 1948.

Again in 1975, Coryell provided St. Louis with a division title but another playoff loss, this time to the Rams in Los Angeles, 35–23, ended the Cards' post-season dream in the first outing.

The Cardinals next appeared in the playoffs in 1982 when Head Coach Jim Hanifan's club lost a first-round game at Green Bay, 41–16. In 1984, an offensively explosive St. Louis team narrowly missed the playoffs—and the NFC East title—with a 9–7 record. However, the Cardinals stumbled to a 5–11 mark in 1985, prompting Hanifan's dismissal and the hiring of long-time Dallas Cowboys' assistant Gene Stallings as the team's new head coach.

Arizona

After 28 years in St. Louis, the Cardinals relocated to Arizona in the spring of 1988 and made Sun Devil Stadium on the campus of Arizona State University their new home.

Their first season in the Valley of the Sun began optimistically when the team raced to a 7–4 record and a share of the NFC East Division lead. But untimely injuries struck and a five-game losing streak ensued to finish the year, dashing hopes of the club's first post-season berth since 1982. However, the Cardinals' new home provided club single-game (67,139 vs. Dallas in the Arizona inaugural game) and single-season (472,937) attendance records in the team's first autumn in Arizona.

Two coaching changes and a name change have altered the face of the Cardinals since their Arizona arrival. Following their first two seasons in the desert, long-time Washington Redskin assistant Joe Bugel arrived as head coach, a position he held for four seasons until Buddy Ryan was named to replace him and serve as general manager, too, on February 3, 1994.

On March 17, 1994, President Bidwill announced his intention to change the name of the team to the Arizona Cardinals. The change was adopted unanimously by vote of NFL owners the following week.

All the Cardinals' franchise attendance records have been established since moving to the desert. The record-setting inaugural season single-season attendance total was eclipsed in 1994 when 497,330 fans, or 62,166 per game, spun the Sun Devil Stadium turnstiles.

The top 10 single-game home crowds in franchise history have watched the Cardinals play in Sun Devil Stadium, including the largest, a throng of 73,025 that saw the Cards face Dallas on September 19, 1993.

The 1995 season also marks another milestone when the Cardinals serve as the host team for Super Bowl XXX, scheduled for Sun Devil Stadium on January 28, 1996.

Heritage

The list of former Cardinals enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame grew to 13 in 1994 when ex-tight end Jackie Smith joined the elite group.

The others are Charles Bidwill, Guy Chamberlin, Conzelman, Driscoll, Kiesling, Curly Lambeau, Dick "Night Train" Lane, Ollie Matson, Nevers, Jim Thorpe, Trippi, and Larry Wilson. Wilson currently serves the Cardinals as a vice president.

Overtime Games

Cardinals 19, Redskins 16
Oct. 16, 1994 • R.F.K Stadium

Both teams missed long field-goal attempts, but newly-signed kicker Todd Peterson, appearing in his first NFL game as a substitute for the injured Greg Davis, redeemed himself with 4:56 remaining in overtime with a 29-yard game-winner on the Cards' first play from scrimmage following their fifth interception that safety Terry Hoage made and returned 23 yards. The Cards had knotted the contest in regulation with 27 seconds remaining on a five-yard pass from quarterback Steve Beuerlein to wide receiver Ricky Proehl.

Cardinals 20, Steelers 17
Oct. 30, 1994 • Sun Devil Stadium

The Cardinals' second consecutive home sellout crowd—a first since moving to Arizona in 1988—witnessed the Cards' second overtime victory in a three-week span. Card linebacker/long snapper Randy Kirk caused a fumble on the overtime kickoff that Arizona recovered, and four plays later, Greg Davis sent the game-winning field goal through the uprights from 51 yards away.

Bears 19, Cardinals 16
Nov. 27, 1994 • Sun Devil Stadium

The Cardinals' third overtime outing in a seven-game span turned into a 19–16 setback when Chicago's Kevin Butler kicked his fourth field goal with 6:49 remaining in the extra period that the Cards forced with 10 game-tying fourth-quarter points. The Cardinals enjoyed the first overtime possession but their drive stalled at the Chicago 38 yard line. The Bears followed with a 70-yard drive, leading to Butler's game-winning field goal, a march that was highlighted by a 44-yard pass from quarterback Steve Walsh to wide receiver Jeff Graham.

Cardinals 30, Seahawks 27
December 19, 1993 • Kingdome

Phoenix scored the final five times it touched the football—four in regulation, one in overtime. Place kicker Greg Davis tied the game at 27–27 on the final play of regulation with a franchise-record and personal-best 55-yard field goal. After winning the overtime coin toss, the Cardinals started the game-winning drive at their 20-yard line. Thirteen plays later, including a crucial 12-yard third-and-nine midfield completion to wide receiver Anthony Edwards, Davis delivered again with a 41-yard game-winning field goal.

Cardinals 10, Eagles 10
December 7, 1986 • Veterans Stadium

The Cardinals won the toss. Reggie White blocks Eric Schubert's 40-yard field goal attempt. The teams trade punts. Paul McFadden's 43-yard field goal attempt is wide left. Schubert misses a 37-yard effort. Matt Cavanaugh's pass is intercepted by Carl Carter and returned to the Eagles' 48-yard line as time expires.

Giants 20, Cardinals 20
October 24, 1983 • Busch Stadium

The Cardinals won the toss in a memorable Monday Night Football offering. The teams trade punts before Cardinal place kicker Neil O'Donoghue misses a 44-yard field goal attempt wide left. Dave Jennings punt returned by Steve Bird to the Cardinals' 21 yard line. Quarterback Neil Lomax is intercepted by Mark Haynes who loses six yards to the New York 33-yard line. Jennings' punt is downed on the St. Louis 17-yard line. O'Donoghue's 19-yard field goal attempt is wide right. Giant quarterback Jeff Rutledge's pass is intercepted by Lionel Washington who returns it 23 yards to New York's 25-yard line. O'Donoghue's third field goal attempt of overtime is wide right from 42 yards out. Rutledge is intercepted again, this time by Wayne Smith at the St. Louis 33 yard line, to end the game.

December 24, 1994 • Atlanta 10, Cardinals 6 (A)

The Cardinals' playoff aspirations and hopes for a winning season were dashed on Christmas Eve in Atlanta when the Falcons handed Arizona a 10–6 setback and an 8–8 record, the Cards' first non-losing season since 1984. Despite posting their best total yardage (385) and passing yardage (313) numbers of 1994, the Cardinals' season-long offensive frustrations continued when four drives ended inside the Falcons' 10-yard line—the four (field goal), three (fumble), nine (downs), and one (final play) yard lines—and produced only three points and Arizona's fifth touchdownless game. Wide receiver Gary Clark recorded his 50th reception of the season to make him the only receiver in NFL history to record 50 or more grabs in each of his first 10 campaigns. The game's only touchdown was an 85-yard first-quarter pass from Atlanta quarterback Jeff George to wide receiver Bert Emanuel, the longest play of the season allowed by the Cards' defense. Defensive tackle Eric Swann intercepted the first pass of his career in the third quarter.

Series Notes

The Cardinals hold a 11–6 overall advantage in their encounters with Atlanta ... the Cards were victims of Atlanta's first home victory as a new franchise with a 16–10 defeat on Dec. 11, 1966 ... at one stretch in the series, the Cardinals won five consecutive games (1971–76) ... Arizona owns a 5–1 mark at home against Atlanta ... 1994 will mark the seventh consecutive season the Cards have faced the Falcons and the first time at home after three consecutive outings in Atlanta.

Last Meeting

November 27, 1994 • Chicago 19, Cardinals 16-OT (H)

The Cardinals' third overtime outing in a seven-game span turned into a 19–16 setback when Chicago's Kevin Butler kicked his fourth field goal with 6:49 remaining in the extra period that the Cards forced with 10 game-tying fourth-quarter points. The Bears controlled the flow of the contest from the outset by taking early leads of 7–0, 13–3, and 16–6 behind a 132-yard rushing attack (40 carries). The Cardinal offense continued to struggle, failing to score a touchdown for the second consecutive week. Arizona's defense tallied its first touchdown of the season to cut Chicago's advantage to 16–13 when defensive end Keith McCants intercepted the first pass of his career and returned it 46 yards for his first career touchdown. After the Cards forced a Chicago punt on its ensuing possession, they drove 55 yards in 13 plays for kicker Greg Davis' third field goal of the day, a 47-yarder, that tied the game with 1:04 left. The Cardinals enjoyed the first overtime possession but their drive stalled at the Chicago 38 yard line. The Bears followed with a 70-yard drive leading to Butler's game-winning field goal that was highlighted by a 44-yard pass from quarterback Steve Walsh to wide receiver Jeff Graham. Card running back Larry Centers set a personal single-game best with 10 pass receptions.

Series Notes

The Cardinals and Bears boast the oldest regular-season rivalry in NFL history dating to the 1920s when the two shared the Windy City ... the Bears maintain a 54–25–6 advantage in the series but the teams have split the last eight meetings ... the Cardinals set a then-franchise record attendance mark of 71,233 in Sun Devil Stadium on Oct. 28, 1990 against the Bears, also the largest crowd in the history of the series ... last year's 16–0 Bear victory in August broke a string of three consecutive Cardinal victories in the preseason series, which stands in the Cardinals' favor by a 21–8 margin.

Last Meeting

September 18, 1994 • Cleveland 32, Cardinals 0 (A)

The Cardinals suffered their first shutout in 43 games (Oct. 27, 1991 vs. Minnesota) and the first of Buddy Ryan's 82-game head-coaching career. Despite the one-sided outcome, Arizona trailed only 3–0 at halftime. Cleveland scored touchdowns on three of its first four second-half possessions, capped by an 81-yard scoring connection from quarterback Vinny Testaverde to rookie wide receiver Derrick Alexander, to seize a commanding 25–0 lead. Offensive frustrations continued to plague Arizona. Six of 13 Arizona possessions, including the first three, ended in three plays. Quarterbacks Jim McMahon, making his first Cardinal start in his second appearance, and Jay Schroeder were intercepted three times. The last, off Schroeder, was returned 93 yards for a touchdown by the Browns' Eric Turner, the longest interception return in history against the Cardinals. The Cardinals were successful in stopping Cleveland multi-threat Eric Metcalf, who notched only 23 punt-return yards in two tries, fumbled a fair-catch attempt back to he Cards, gained just nine yards on two pass receptions, and rushed for minus one yard on two carries.

Series Notes

Cleveland leads the series by a 32–10–3 margin, including victories in three of the last four meetings ... the two teams have met just four times since 1974 and just once in the 1990s (last season) ... from 1950–69, the teams met each season on a home-and-home basis as members of the NFL Eastern Conference, a stretch of 40 games which saw the Browns accumulate a 29–8–3 advantage ... Cleveland prevailed in the first 12 meetings from 1950–55, the longest winning streak in the series ... the Cards first success against the Browns was a 9–7 decision at Chicago in 1956 ... the last Cardinals-Browns preseason meeting was a 21–7 Cleveland victory at Sun Devil Stadium on Aug. 26, 1989.

Last Meeting

October 12, 1994 • Dallas 28, Cardinals 21, (H)

The Cards dropped their ninth consecutive decision to Dallas in a see-saw 28–21 turnover-free contest witnessed by 71,023 fans, the fourth-largest crowd in Cardinal history. Tied 14–14 at half-time and following a scoreless third quarter, Arizona smelled upset when wide receiver Ricky Proehl staked it to a 21–14 lead with a nine-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Steve Beuerlein. Playing without dazed quarterback Troy Aikman, Dallas rallied behind back-up Rodney Peete with a game-tying 65-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Michael Irvin and a 79-yard touchdown drive on its next possession that included a 39-yard long-gainer to wide receiver Alvin Harper.

Series Notes

Dallas leads the series 42–20–1 and owns a nine-game winning streak ... excluding the Cowboys' 38–3 demolition of the Cards in last year's first meeting at Texas Stadium, the margin of the other four most recent Cardinal defeats has been 25 combined points (16–10 in 1992, 17–10 and 20–15 in 1993, and 28–21 in 1994) ... the Cards swept both 1989 contests for the first time since 1970 ... Dallas provided the opposition for the Cards' first regular-season home game in Arizona in 1988 with the Cowboys prevailing 17–14 ... the Cowboys drew the largest home crowd in Arizona franchise history when 73,025 packed Sun Devil Stadium to see a 17–10 Cardinal defeat on Sept. 19, 1993 ... at one stretch from 1967–86, Dallas won 27 of 36 games in the series, including undefeated streaks of six and seven games, and enjoyed one home stretch of 13–2 against the Cardinals ... the Cards are 9–23 all-time at Dallas and have won only five of the last 28 meetings in Texas.

Last Meeting

December 15, 1991 • Denver 24, Cardinals 19 (A)

The Cardinals led eventual AFC West Division champion Denver 19–17 late in the game behind four Greg Davis field goals and a 45-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Chris Chandler to wide receiver Ernie Jones. The Cards were on the verge of the upset with less than six minutes to play when wide receiver Ricky Proehl raced 23 yards with a reverse handoff to the Denver 37-yard line. But a holding penalty nullified the play, leading to a punt three plays later that set the stage for Denver's 66-yard game-winning drive that quarterback John Elway capped with a four-yard end run with only 1:46 remaining. Chandler impressed in his starting debut, completing 15 of 32 passes for 194 yards. Rookie cornerback Aeneas Williams intercepted two Elway passes and made a touchdown-saving goal-line tackle. Davis posted his second four-field goal effort as a Cardinal. The fourth, a 38-yarder, gave the Cards a 19–17 lead with just 8:24 to play before Elway's heroics rallied Denver.

Series Notes

The clubs have played just four times during the regular season with the Cardinals still searching for their first victory ... the first contest ended in a 17–17 tie in 1973, the second a 7–0 Bronco win in 1977, the third a 37–0 shutout by Denver at Sun Devil Stadium in 1989, and most recently the Broncos' 24–19 come-from-behind victory in 1991 ... in the preseason, Arizona and Denver have played each of the past five Augusts ... the Cardinals are 4–7 versus the Broncos during preseason, including three consecutive victories prior to Denver's 30–21 win at Mile High Stadium in August, 1994 ... the Cards prevailed at Sun Devil Stadium by scores of 34–10 in 1991 and 34–9 in 1993, and handed Denver a 21–17 defeat at Mile High Stadium in 1992.

Last Meeting

December 12, 1993 • Detroit 21, Cardinals 14 (H)

Phoenix suffered its eighth loss of the season by seven points or less and its second to the Lions. Detroit answered Cardinal touchdowns in the second and third quarters on its ensuing possessions to send a 14–14 deadlock into the fourth quarter. The Lions took the lead on a 43-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Erik Kramer to wide receiver Willie Green early in the fourth quarter. Phoenix responded with its second long drive of the day. Beginning at their own nine-yard line, the Cards drove to the Detroit one-yard line in 15 plays. But the Cardinals were turned away on three consecutive plays. The Lion defense pressured Card quarterback Steve Beuerlein throughout the afternoon, sacking him four times for minus 28 yards and making three interceptions. Phoenix running back Larry Centers set career highs with nine pass receptions for 77 yards. Defensively, end Michael Bankston recovered a Lion fumble that led to a Ronald Moore touchdown four plays later, sacked Kramer once, and added eight tackles (seven solos).

Series Notes

Two of the NFL's oldest rivals, the teams first met in 1934 when Detroit prevailed 6–0 in Chicago ... the Lions lead the series 28–14–3, but prior to the two 1993 encounters, the clubs had met just three times since 1980 ... Detroit prevailed in both 1993 outings, 26–20 at the Silverdome and 21–14 in Arizona ... the Cards' last victory in the series was a 16–13 road decision in 1989 ... the series has been marked by streaks ... the Lions defeated the Cardinals nine consecutive times from 1935–39 and six straight times from 1942–45 ... the Cardinals produced a six-game winning streak from 1946–48 and won four of five meetings prior to the Lions' two-game sweep in 1993.

Last Meeting

December 4, 1994 • Cardinals 30, Houston 12 (A)

Arizona posted season highs in points (30) and rushing yards (161), a lopsided two-to-one time-of-possession advantage (39:55–20:05), and its most impressive defensive effort of the year to down Houston at the Astrodome. The Oilers' defense staked 1–11 Houston to a quick 9–0 first-quarter lead by tackling Card quarterback Jay Schroeder in the end zone for a safety and returning an interception 36 yards for a touchdown (Cris Dishman). Five Card pass interceptions, one fumble recovery, and four quarterback sacks paced Arizona's comeback, directly leading to two field goals, a touchdown, and a safety. The first of two rushing touchdowns by running back Larry Centers broke the Cards' nine-quarter touchdownless drought. Trailing 12–10 early in the fourth stanza, the Cards tallied 20 fourth-quarter points while holding the Oilers scoreless after intermission. The 23-yard field goal kicker Greg Davis contributed to the offensive barrage, his second of the afternoon, was his 10th straight three-point success, equalling the Cards' record for consecutive field goals. Safety Terry Hoage led the dominant defense with two pass interceptions and a fumble recovery. Houston completed only 11 of 34 passes for 161 yards, added just 37 yards rushing, and was zero-for-nine on third-down. Cornerback Aeneas Williams assumed the NFL interception lead with his eighth pickoff.

Series Notes

The Cardinals and Oilers have played just six times since the AFL–NFL merger in 1970 ... the Cardinals won the first contest between the clubs, a 44–0 shutout at St. Louis in 1970, followed by two victories at the Astrodome—31–27 in 1974 and 24–17 in 1979 ... Houston won the next two games—20–10 at Busch Stadium in 1985, and 38–20 at the Astrodome in 1988 ... Arizona was victorious in the most recent encounter, a 30–12 win in the Astrodome in 1994.

November 23, 1986 • Cardinals 23, Kansas City 14 (H)

In a clash of two teams headed in opposite directions—the 2–9 Cardinals against the 7–4 Chiefs—the Cards ambushed the heavily-favored Chiefs with a 23–14 victory at Busch Stadium. Fueled by touchdown drives of 77, 80, and 70 yards, the Cardinals zoomed to a 23–0 fourth-quarter lead. Kansas City avoided a shutout with touchdowns on its final two possessions. Card quarterback Neil Lomax fired scoring tosses of five yards to Roy Green and 25 and four yards to J.T. Smith. Eric Schubert added a field goal. Cardinal cornerback Cedric Mack snuffed two Kansas City drives with interceptions. The victory broke a string of three Kansas City victories in the series and marked the Cardinals' first regular-season win against the Chiefs in five attempts.

Series Notes

The Chiefs hold a 3–1–1 advantage in the series ... after the two teams played to a 6–6 tie in 1970 in the first meeting, Kansas City won the next three contests by scores of 17–13 in 1974 and 21–13 in 1980 in St. Louis, and 38–14 in Arrowhead Stadium in 1983 ... the Cardinals gained their first win in the series in 1986 with a 23–14 decision at Busch Stadium ... though the teams have met only five times in regular-season play, the two former neighbors in Missouri staged a regular preseason series while the Cardinals were located in St. Louis from 1960–87 ... the teams met annually in the "Governor's Cup" game from 1968–88 ... the Chiefs held a 13–7–1 advantage in those encounters.

October 2, 1994 • Cardinals 17, Minnesota 7 (H)

The Cardinals took control of a defensive struggle with 10 fourth-quarter points to post a series of "firsts"—Arizona's "first" victory of 1994, Head Coach and General Manager Buddy Ryan's "first" success at the team's helm, the "first" start in a Cardinal uniform by quarterback Jay Schroeder, and winning the turnover battle for the "first" time in 1994. The largest crowd (67,950) to watch a Cardinal home-field victory saw the Arizona defense pace the triumph by smothering Minnesota's running game, limiting the Vikings to only 18 yards on the ground, the lowest total by a Cardinal opponent since 1983 (Philadelphia, 14 yards, Dec. 18 at St. Louis). The Cardinal defenders also made two pass interceptions (cornerback Aeneas Williams, linebacker Seth Joyner) and recovered two fumbles (cornerback James Williams, defensive end Michael Bankston). Schroeder, the third Card quarterback to start in the season's first four games, impressed by completing 20 of 36 passes for 221 yards and driving Arizona to its "first" opening-drive points of the season. Viking wide receiver Cris Carter established a Cardinal opponent single-game record with 14 pass receptions.

Series Notes

The Cardinals maintain an 8–5 advantage in the series ... in the most recent meeting between the teams, Arizona cruised to a 17–7 victory in 1994 after Minnesota outscored the Cardinals by a combined 62–7 in their two previous meetings in 1991—34–7 in the Metrodome and 28–0 at Sun Devil Stadium ... the Vikings defeated the Cards 30–14 in Minnesota in the first round of 1974 playoff action ... the Cards' 56 points in a 56–14 drubbing of the Vikings at Metropolitan Stadium in 1963 still stands as the most points allowed by a Viking opponent and is the fourth highest single-game total in Cardinal history.

Last Meeting
November 13, 1994 • Cardinals 10, N.Y. Giants 9 (A)
The Cardinals snapped their 10-game losing streak at Giants Stadium with a dramatic 10–9 victory. Trailing 9–0 at intermission, the Cards' defense stymied the Giants in the second half, holding New York scoreless while limiting it to 56 total yards (21 rushing, 35 passing), three first downs, and one-for-six third-down conversion success. Card kicker Greg Davis closed the gap to 9–3 with a 45-yard third-quarter field goal. Stopped three times from the Giants' one-yard line, Arizona forced a punt before starting its game-winning drive that was culminated by a nine-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Steve Beuerlein to rookie wide receiver Bryan Reeves with 1:39 remaining. It was Reeves' first NFL touchdown reception.

Series Note
One of the NFL's ancient rivalries and the lengthiest for the Cardinals ... the Giants hold a 19–9–1 advantage in the series since 1980 and 67–36–2 overall dating to 1926 ... the Cardinals snapped their 10-game losing streak at Giants Stadium with a dramatic 10–9 victory at the Meadowlands in 1994 ... a 19–0 Card shutout at Sun Devil Stadium in 1992 broke the Giants' eight-game overall winning streak in the series ... the Giants provided the opposition for the final game of the 1974 season when the Cardinals roared back from a 14–0 halftime deficit for a 26–14 win and their first division crown since 1948 ... the Giants also were the Cardinals' foe in the club's final game in St. Louis, a 27–24 Cardinal victory on Dec. 13, 1987.

Last Meeting
November 20, 1994 • Cardinals 12, Philadelphia 6 (H)
The Cardinals won without the benefit of a touchdown for the first time in 28 years (6–3 vs. Pittsburgh, Nov. 27, 1966). The contest also marked the first time in 22 years (6–6 at Philadelphia, Nov. 5, 1972) the Cardinals played a game without either team tallying a touchdown. Arizona rode a muffling defense and the reliable right leg of kicker Greg Davis to victory. Philadelphia gained only 185 total yards, including just 21 by halftime. Eagle quarterback Randall Cunningham completed only 17 of 44 passes. He was sacked four times. Three times Cardinal drives stalled at the Eagle seven-yard line, resulting in 24-yard Davis field goals on each occasion in the first, second, and third quarters, respectively. The Arizona defense rose to the occasion in the second half, intercepting (Aeneas Williams) Cunningham at the Cards' one-yard line, forcing (safety Terry Hoage) and recovering (Williams) Eagle running back Herschel Walker's midfield fumble, and stopping Philadelphia's final scoring threat at the Cardinal 24-yard line. The Walker fumble led to the fourth Davis field goal, a 39-yarder.

Series Notes
The teams are deadlocked at 46–46–5 in the series dating to 1935 ... they have split four of the past five years, including victories at home and losses on the road each of the past two seasons ... the teams figured in consecutive NFL championship games in the 1940s ... the Chicago Cardinals edged the Eagles 28–21 in frozen Comiskey Park on Dec. 28, 1947 for the NFL title ... the Eagles avenged that loss with a 7–0 victory in Shibe Park on Dec. 16 to earn the crown in 1948.

December 6, 1992 • San Diego 27, Cardinals 21 (H)

Despite limiting San Diego to 29 yards rushing, the lowest total by a Cardinal opponent in nine years, the Cards were smitten by turnovers (three fumbles, two pass interceptions) for the second consecutive week (11 turnovers in two games) and dropped a 27–21 decision to the Chargers at Sun Devil Stadium. Phoenix took control with leads of 14–0 and 21–10 and flirted with points four other times before stopping itself with fumbles at the Charger 16, 40, and 32 yard lines and missing a 24-yard field goal after stalling at the San Diego seven-yard line. The Chargers converted only four of 12 third downs, possessed the ball just 24:45 minutes, and posted only 14 first downs.

Series Notes

The Cards and Chargers have met six times dating to 1971 with San Diego holding a 5–1 edge ... the Chargers won the first two meetings at Jack Murphy Stadium by scores of 20–17 in 1971 and 43–24 in 1976 ... after the Cards posted a 44–14 triumph in St. Louis in 1983, San Diego swept the next three encounters with a 28–24 home-field victory in 1987, and victories of 24–13 in 1989 and 27–21 in 1992, both at Sun Devil Stadium.

December 19, 1993 • Cardinals 30, Seattle 27–OT (A)

The Cardinals' first overtime game since 1986 turned into their first victory on artificial turf in 13 tries and their first indoor success since their last visit to the Kingdome (1989). Kicker Greg Davis' third field goal of the game ended the affair just 6:45 after his second three-pointer, a franchise record and personal-best 55-yarder, tied the game on the final play of regulation. The Cardinals' passing game, featuring career bests from quarterback Steve Beuerlein (34 comp., 53 att., 431 yards, 3 touchdowns) and wide receiver Gary Clark (12 receptions), and a 58-yard touchdown connection to wide receiver Randal Hill, saved the day after the Cardinals spotted Seattle a 20–7 halftime lead. The Cardinals scored the final five times they touched the ball—four in regulation and one in overtime.

Series Notes

The Cardinals are undefeated in four regular-season outings against Seattle ... the victories have come by scores of 30–24 in 1976, 33–28 in 1983, 34–24 in 1989, and a 30–27 overtime win in 1993 ... the four triumphs have been by a combined 24 points, an average of six points per game ... the Seahawks' journey to Sun Devil Stadium in 1995 will mark their first regular-season appearance in Arizona ... the Seahawks have traveled to the Valley twice for preseason games—both victories—in 1989 (16–10) and 1990 (34–9).

Last Meeting
December 11, 1994 • Cardinals 17, Washington 15 (H)
Kicker Greg Davis' 27-yard franchise-record 11th consecutive field goal as time expired propelled the Cardinals to a pulsating 17–15 victory over Washington, handing them a fourth straight victory over the Redskins for the first time since 1963–65. Arizona jumped ahead when quarterback Jay Schroeder found wide receiver Ricky Proehl with a 48-yard touchdown pass midway through the first stanza for a 7–0 advantage. The connection was the Cards' longest offensive scoring play of the season. The play followed a fumble recovery by rookie Card linebacker Terry Irving. Two Redskin field goals tightened the contest at 7–6, a score that stood until the exciting fourth quarter. Arizona seemingly took control when running back Ronald Moore capped an 11-play, 80-yard drive by plowing for a one-yard touchdown. But the game's complexion changed quickly on Washington's next two possessions when a 52-yard touchdown pass from rookie quarterback Heath Shuler to wide receiver Henry Ellard and a 21-yard Chip Lohmiller field goal gave the Redskins a 15–14 lead with 2:54 remaining. The Cardinal offense responded with a 10-play, 61-yard march to set the stage for Davis' heroics. The big play of the drive was running back Garrison Hearst's 29-yard fourth-and-one pass reception to the Redskins' six-yard line two plays prior to Davis' game-winner. Cornerback Aeneas Williams raised his NFL-leading interception total to nine. Washington's 406 total yards made it the first team to crack 400 yards against the Cards.

Sunday, October 15 • 1 p.m.
Sun Devil Stadium

Series Notes
Although the Cardinals have swept the Redskins the past two seasons, Washington has won 30 of the last 40 games in the series dating to 1937 ... prior to the sweeps in 1993 and '94, the last time the Cardinals defeated the Redskins twice in the same season was 1974 ... the Cards' victory in the first 1993 meeting, a 17–10 triumph, was the Cardinals' first success at R.F.K. Stadium since 1978 following 14 consecutive losses ... the Cardinals first contest against Washington in 1988, a 30–21 win September 25, was their first home-field success in Arizona and snapped a seven-game Redskin series winning streak ... Washington then won eight of the next nine encounters before back-to-back Cardinal sweeps the past two seasons.

Sun Devil Stadium

Home to Super Bowl XXX

Sun Devil Stadium, home to Arizona State University football since 1958 and the Fiesta Bowl since 1971, added the National Football League to its storied past in 1988 when the Cardinals also took residence "between the buttes."

But the stadium's most significant place in history looms just ahead. Super Bowl XXX will be played at Sun Devil Stadium on January 28, 1996!

Literally carved from the desert, Sun Devil Stadium sits in a spectacular setting between two mountain buttes in Tempe, Arizona southeast of Phoenix.

Originally erected in 1958, Sun Devil Stadium has been expanded four times (1976, '77, '88, and '89). Capacity for NFL football in 1995 will be 73,269. Improvements costing over $21 million have been made over the past seven years.

A $1.67 million field renovation (lowering and widening), completed in June of 1992, was the most recent major upgrade. Besides providing significantly more sideline space, the project also changed the look of the stadium by removing the characteristic moats in favor of field-level walkways. Ninety thousand square feet of Tifway 419 sod, the same grass that adorns the Cardinals' training facility, covers a unique layering support system that includes hot-water tubes designed to fool Mother Nature (delay dormancy) and promote growth during cooler months. Although approximately 1,300 seats were lost during the renovation, the project eliminated sight-line problems that had caused obstructed views from lower-row seats.

The bowl (south) end was connected four years ago by Arizona State's dramatic six-story Intercollegiate Athletic Complex building and an extension of loge-level seats. A state-of-the-art video replay scoreboard and locker rooms in the north end also were added. The color video replay system, situated in the southwest corner, offers fans instant replays of game action. A complementary matrix board for messages and statistical information sits in the southeast corner.

In 1989, $11.5 million was spent to construct a three-story, 60,000 square-foot building atop the upper deck on the west side containing two 30-suite levels and topped by a modern press box and eight additional private suites. Served by four industrial-sized elevators—one for the media and three for the public—the addition offers working space for 200 sportswriters, broadcast booths, booth space for statistical crews, coaches, public address personnel, security, scoreboard operations, and replay officials, and a rooftop camera deck in addition to suite seating for over 900 fans.

Sun Devil Stadium proved a most hospitable host to the Cardinals in the team's inaugural season in Arizona in 1988 when seven of the Cards' eight regular-season home games broke the club's previous single-game attendance record. The season total of 472,937 fans also easily eclipsed the Cardinal franchise's single-season home attendance mark.

In 1994, the Cards again broke their single-season attendance mark when 497,330 fans, or an average of 62,166 patrons per game, spun the Sun Devil Stadium turnstiles.

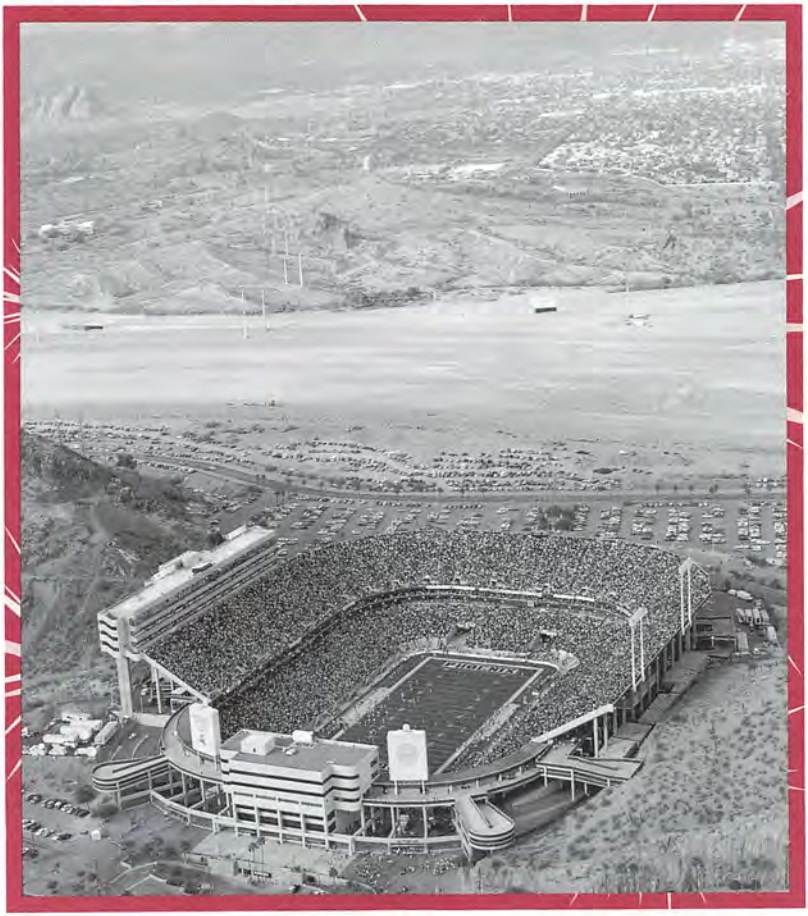
The largest crowd in Cardinal history—73,025—witnessed the Cards' September 19, 1993 battle against the eventual Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys at Sun Devil Stadium.

The 10 largest crowds to watch Cardinal home games all have been played at Sun Devil Stadium since the team's arrival in Arizona.

Super Bowl XXX will bring the NFL's annual championship game to Sun Devil Stadium and NFL Experience to the south side of the Salt River immediately north of the stadium on the banks of the Rio Salado Project currently under development.



Training Facility

Rising from a former cotton field in south Tempe is the Cardinals' training facility and corporate headquarters.

Covering 14.7 acres of land, the Cardinals' home since September of 1990 is a 94,000 square-foot state-of-the-art facility sporting desert building materials, and three and one-half acres of Southwestern (Sonoran) desert landscaping that leaves no doubt where the team proudly calls home.

Possessing many characteristics that distinguish it as both a football facility and an Arizona landmark, the showcase complex has won numerous architectural and landscape awards.

It incorporates local materials such as copper, desert brick, and clay tile, complemented by desert landscaping which integrate into the natural surroundings.

Environmentally sensitive, it utilizes passive solar energy to light offices and corridors while employing masonry and shadow to eliminate heat.

The interior joins many important concepts. Specificity of design is reflected in the workout areas on the first level where a number of planned activities can occur simultaneously. Facilities are situated along a logical traffic pattern to accommodate a progressive flow of activities.

The first floor consists of player facilities that include the training area, an auditorium, locker room, hydrotherapy (15-player in-floor sauna and cold plunge) and spa rooms, indoor/outdoor weight-training room, offensive and defensive meeting rooms, and film/videotape rooms. They open to three playing fields (one lighted) on nearly five acres of land.

The second floor comprises the administration and operations areas that include the coaching staff's offices. On the second and third floors, natural lighting and breezeways combine with advanced communications technology to create the most flexible office space possible. The integration of current electronic and construction technologies also makes the facility more economical to operate and easier to maintain.

The main building is flanked by a two-story attached building that includes a public area, the ticket office, and the public relations department that houses a media center featuring custom-designed work carrels, private interview rooms, televisions, and a reference library. Another two-story building housing two handball courts completes the complex.

Tifway 419 sod, the same hybrid used for golf course putting greens, covers seven and one-half acres on the east side of the building and includes three laser-leveled side-by-side practice fields. Underneath lies a complex lateral piping, sub-drainage system constructed with drainage tiles that accommodate as much as three inches of rain water that can be drained from all three fields, making them playable within three hours.

Furthermore, many details are invisible to the naked eye. For example, the fields and team building are set at the same angle as Sun Devil Stadium, the Cards' home field at Arizona State University, allowing simulation of the position of the sun under game conditions.
